

SAFE LIFE OF GIRL, WHO TRIES SUICIDE, BY DR. GRADY DOCTOR OF SUICIDE INTENTION

Miss Ella May Phillips, 19 Years Old, Drinks Carbolic Acid in Candy Store on Whitehall Street.

Believing She Might Be in Earnest, Dr. Trammel Was Getting Ambulance Ready to Answer Call.

Pretty 19-year-old Ella May Phillips, of No. 24 Edgewood avenue, fell unconscious in the front room of Nunnally's candy store, last night after swallowing the contents of a 2-ounce bottle of carbolic acid.

Dr. Frank Trammel, emergency ambulance physician, had made preparations to go to Nunnally's to answer this call. Five minutes prior to the time of the call Miss Phillips, who had become acquainted with him formerly when he rode her in his ambulance to the hospital for an operation, had telephoned him from Nunnally's, telling him that she was going to swallow carbolic acid and asking him to ride her slowly back to the hospital so that she would die.

Dr. Trammel, before he had telephoned Dr. Trammel and told him that she was thinking of committing suicide. The doctor started to the garage to light the lamps to his ambulance and crank it up.

37,289 Lovers of Music Pay $94,992 for a Week Of Metropolitan Opera All Records for Atlanta Are Smashed, Receipts for This Year Being Over $4,000 Greater Than They Were Last Season.

REMARKABLE OVATION GIVEN ENRICO CARUSO AFTER HIS SOB SONG

Both "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Pagliacci" Are Wonderfully Presented and Please Great Audience on Closing Night.

A record-breaking week of grand opera closed last night with one of the most remarkable ovations to Caruso, who sang the role of Canio in "Pagliacci," of the many remarkable ovations that have been given to him since he came to Atlanta.

All records for receipts and attendance were broken by the fifth annual opera week. The receipts for the week were in round numbers $95,000, this figure being $4,000 in excess of the receipts of last year, which was the record. The exact figure for this year was $94,992.

The total attendance for paid admissions for the week amounted to 27,289 people, or an average of 5,237 per performance. The total attendance of last year was 26,000, and the record of 26,000 was broken by the attendance of 27,289.

The largest attendance of the week was 4,400 at "Butterfly" Friday night. The program last night consisted of a double bill of "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Pagliacci."

Both operas were wonderfully presented, but the triumph of the evening was when Caruso sang the "sob song" at the close of the first act of "Pagliacci."

Ovation for Caruso. The last notes had scarcely died away when the audience burst into the wildest applause, and when the great singer appeared before the curtain the audience half rose to its feet and a tremendous shout made the Auditorium tremble. Eight times Caruso was forced to answer certain calls. But each time he responded he was as fresh as when he first sang the "sob song." Each time he came out he performed all sorts of antics and capers until he almost had the audience wondering whether this were the same man who had but a moment before put the soul of a great artist into the "sob song."

There was, perhaps, but one further incident last night when Caruso sang the "sob song." He sang it with a voice that was as fresh as when he first sang the "sob song."

Teacher and Student In Girls High School Very Much at Odds

Education Board Must Settle Dispute, Which Started in Classroom Some Time Ago.

If anyone ever doubted the correctness of General Sherman's comment on war, a survey of the controversy between Miss Alice B. Mann, a teacher at the Girls High school, and Miss Mary Scott, a student, will serve to dispel any distrust in the popular war.

There may be a chance of mediation in Mexico, but if reports which have reached Mayor James O. Woodward and members of Atlanta's school board are true, it will require more diplomacy than all the Latin-American countries and half of Europe to settle the high school dispute. So keen and intense has the matter become that there is considerable danger of the staid and tranquil school board being torn by disunion.

An insult and a counter insult figure in the complications. According to details in the possession of the school board, Miss Scott, the student, was assigned by Miss Jessie Mann, the principal of the school, to compile certain reports. She took her task to the room in which Miss Mann was hastily engaged with her class. It appears that Miss Mann believed that Miss Scott detracted the attention of the class from her study, and she remarked:

"Miss Scott, your inattention is discourteous. You will please leave the room."

A second invitation to leave the room was not necessary. Miss Scott left in a huff. On the other hand, Miss Scott, leaving the room, slammed the door with a bang, which was said to have reverberated in the building.

This Miss Mann construed as an insult. She demanded an apology from the student. Both demanded apologies from the other.

Finally the matter reached the school board through a communication from Miss Scott's father, who is a member of the board. He complained that since the incident his daughter has been allowed in her classroom, and that as the result of the controversy she has been deprived of the benefit of her studies.

The school board, which is composed of the representatives of the city, the county and the state, has been called upon to settle the dispute. It is now in session, and it is expected that it will reach a decision soon.

ADVANCE GUARD OF SHIRINERS TURN FACES TO ATLANTA

Far Western Delegations Will Be Under Way to Gate City of the South Sometime Monday.

ROYAL RECEPTION READY FOR PROMINENT VISITORS

By the Middle of This Week City Will Be Literally Plastered With "Welcome"—Atlanta Signally Honored.

Away out on the west coast today there is a stir and bustle, as hundreds of Shriners are preparing for the great Shriners' convention which meets in Atlanta one week from tomorrow.

By tomorrow the first of the hundreds of caravans of Shriners will be under way with Atlanta as their Mecca. By the last of this week there will be thousands upon thousands of Shriners on the way to Atlanta, and by next Sunday morning they will begin to arrive in the city. They will arrive by trainloads, and by Tuesday morning it is estimated that there will be approximately 10,000 Shriners in Atlanta.

This is the largest and one of the wealthiest conventions that meet in the United States, and is composed of the representatives of the nation.

Huerta Troops Rush At American Troops And Then Rush Back

MEDIATION ENVOYS CALL CONFERENCE OF THREE PARTIES

Agents of Huerta, Carranza and United States Are Asked to Meet the Mediators in Washington.

MEDIATORS HOPEFUL OF PACIFYING MEXICO

Huerta, However, Seems to Be Playing Game of Delay. Much Conjecture as to Why Rojas Was Dismissed as Foreign Minister.

Washington, May 2.—The three South American envoys who have undertaken the task of pacifying Mexico by diplomacy, today made another decisive move in their plan, by requesting the United States government, General Huerta and General Carranza to meet the mediators to confer with them in Washington.

Ambassador de Gama, of Brazil, and Ministers Naon and Suarez, of Argentina, and Chile, respectively, called on Secretary Bryan, asking him to designate the United States representatives. At the same time they telegraphed their requests to the head of the government in Mexico City, as well as the constitutional president, General Carranza.

No announcement of the subjects to be considered by representatives of the three parties to the mediation, or of the powers or functions of the new envoys was made except for the following brief statement issued through the state department on the authority of the three diplomats:

"The mediators have delivered to this government and are sending out to General Huerta and General Carranza requests that representatives be appointed to confer with the mediators."

TO SIMPLIFY PROBLEM. The proposal to bring together the designated representatives was the result of an all-day session of the South American envoys. The suggestion was made by them to then from various quarters that much time would be saved and the problem of exchanging views as to the situation in Mexico.

The local municipal organizations took the suggestion and finally to base on points brought up in the discussion with the mediators, they could sound their superior to the fact that before formal proposals actually were made the mediators had already an idea of their probable reception.

The envoys felt confident tonight that the step they had taken would meet with favor by all concerned. Believing there could be no objection to a move calculated to facilitate the progress of the work.

Thus far responses from General Huerta and General Carranza have not been clear as to whether the differences between the United States and Mexico arising out of the Tampico incident alone would be considered by them or whether they would consent to a general discussion of the Mexican problem. By sending representatives here, it is pointed out, such difficulties would be bridged over for future conference with the mediators everything pertaining to Mexico could be discussed and the matter formally settled before the stage of formal proposals was reached.

ALL MEXICO. Incidentally, it is known that the attention on the broad subject of pacifying Mexico, hoping that differences between the Huerta government and Carranza might be smoothed out on an ordinary view of a solution of the entire Mexican problem. Names of persons who might be acceptable to all three parties for the purpose of provisional president, pending a re-habilitation of the rational government in Mexico for the negotiations reach the stage, are being suggested to the mediators.

Meanwhile, although the United States and General Huerta have agreed to a cessation of hostilities, no word has come from either Huerta or Carranza in response to the proposal for mediation. The Mexican government, however, are confident that their work can go ahead despite this obstacle.

Should General Huerta and General Carranza decide to accept mediation, it may take at least a day or two to get the necessary information. It is not believed that the mediation will be reached by the mediators.

Several Hundred Soldiers of the Dictator Make an Attack on U. S. Soldiers Holding the Waterworks Station in Vera Cruz Suburbs.

MEXICANS DEMANDED THAT THE AMERICANS SURRENDER AT ONCE

When Demand Was Refused Huerta's Men Opened Fire—The Americans Fired One Shot and the Mexicans Took to Heels.

General Funston Hurried Reinforcements to the Threatened Outpost.

Vera Cruz, May 2.—What promised to be the first fight between the United States army and the Mexican troops ended in the exchange of not more than a dozen shots.

The Mexicans threatened to "attack immediately unless the Americans surrendered their position at the waterworks at El Tejar within ten minutes," but failed to fulfill their menace.

The Mexicans are still holding the position beyond the waterworks station and the American troops have received no orders to advance.

At 11 o'clock this morning a Mexican force, estimated at from 300 to 500 men, appeared a mile beyond the waterworks station. As Major Russell, of the marines, had received orders not to assume the offensive, he and his men watched the Mexicans with great interest.

"SURRENDER," SAID MEXICANS. Suddenly a Mexican Lieutenant and nine communications officers, carrying a white flag, advanced and presented a demand for the Americans to surrender within ten minutes.

Major Russell then made preparations to resist any attack, at the same time sending a message to headquarters at Vera Cruz that his outpost was threatened.

Back at headquarters, Brigadier General Funston and his staff had been meticulously working out the details of the new government which the brigadier general had been instructed to establish. The wireless message from the waterworks station at El Tejar, however, put a quick stop to that of active army duty.

Can You Fit a Dress On Yourself Without Help?

This is what makes home dressmaking difficult and even exasperating. You can't raise your arm to put in a pin without throwing the whole waist out of gear, can you? If only someone else were fitting it on you or you were pinning it on someone else—

There! That brings us to our story. Do you realize that there is made an exact replica of your figure which would save you all that fussing and exasperation? It makes no difference how your figure varies from the "perfect 36" or perfect anything. You may have small waist and large hips, narrow shoulders and small neck, long waist in front and short back—you may have no end of trouble with ready-to-wear garments. What we say is still true—you can find a dress-form that may be adjusted in each of these measurements independently of others, a form made up of many sections delicately hinged, so that when you turn the final screw and put on a lining that fits you perfectly, you have your own figure to work on!

Hall-Borchert forms are made at these prices—$7.50, $10, $15 and $18. We want to show you Monday—The "Empress" adjustable Dress Form—priced at $15. Also—The "Queen" adjustable Dress Form No. 55—priced at $18.50.

AUTO TAX LAW WILL HAVE TO BE CHANGED

State Treasurer Speer Cannot Distribute Tax Until After That Time.

Attorney General Warren Grice has rendered State Treasurer Speer an opinion on the distribution of the state automobile tax in which he points out that the act of the last general assembly is defective in that no government reports of rural mileage exists, and therefore he cannot distribute the tax among the counties of the state until the legislature amends the act and fixes some other method of determining the extent of rural route mileage in the state. His opinion is as follows:

In view of the fact that the general assembly is presumed to never do a vain or meaningless thing, I have endeavored to construe this act so as to be effective and operative, but inasmuch as the legislature has expressly directed that the amount which the treasurer is to appropriate to each county is "to be determined upon the United States government reports of rural mileage," and there being no such reports as to counties, I am of the opinion that you cannot pay out of this fund any money until the act directing is given upon the subject.

It was not the intention of the legislature that you should guess at the amount to be paid each county, or for you to merely estimate the rural mileage to give you definite standard of measurement. It was the intention that the proportion should be accurately determined. You have no machinery or fund to be used in getting this information, and in the absence of a government report, such information as you might get from other sources could not be verified by you and would necessarily be more or less of an estimate. No discretion is given you in this matter.

The act also provides that the intention of the general assembly at its session in 1913 was to remedy this defect, and in the meantime you retain the custody of the fund awaiting their pleasure.

GET-RICH-QUICK CASE IN AUGUSTA COURTS

Augusta, Ga., May 2.—(Special.)—One of the most important cases to come up for the spring term of the court for the northern division of the state, the case of John H. Moorefield v. Ruff, according to the charges, the defendant, Moorefield, was charged with the sale of a considerable amount of stock and also made a quick guess at the company had failed.

There will also be a pension case, with a varied assortment of others, including impersonating a soldier, rifling the mails, moonshine distilling, white slavery, sending obscene letters, etc.

VINSON MAKES SPEECH TO VOTERS AT THOMSON

Thomson, Ga., May 2.—(Special.)—Hon. Carl Vinson of Millersville, Ga., came to Thomson for the purpose of making a short address here this afternoon. The crowd was attentive and listened with interest to his speech. He outlined his platform and attacked the speech delivered in Sparta by one of his opponents, Hon. J. C. Reynolds.

Vinson is for the regulation of negroes in the government service; for the abolition of the New York consular standing army; for a curtailment of the power of the federal government.

Mr. Vinson delivered an address this afternoon at Vienna.

WOMAN FIRED ON BY GANG OF NEGROES

Augusta, Ga., May 2.—(Special.)—Late last night a murderous attack was made upon Mrs. Mary Emma Walker, daughter of Bryan Lawrence, at her home on the new Savannah road, by a gang of negroes.

Mrs. Walker had ordered the negroes to leave in front of her house when they had been raising a disturbance. As Mrs. Walker had ordered the negroes to leave, they opened fire upon her, but she fled and escaped unhurt.

The police have the case in hand.

AUGUSTA GREEKS STIRRED BY SHOOTING

Augusta, Ga., May 2.—(Special.)—The shooting of Nick Coones, one of the popular Greeks here, on Wednesday by another Greek, George Cavali, has caused much excitement. It is said to be another case of the "watermelon" trouble. Cavali, who was a member of the Greek community, was said to have been separated some months ago from the Greek community.

George, although with four bullet wounds and a bruise from being hit with the weapon, is holding his own, and barring unforeseen developments, he has a fair chance of life. Cavali is held without bail.

ROAD OFFICIALS GIVEN BARBECUE

Augusta, Ga., May 2.—(Special.)—The road officials of Richmond, McDuffie and Columbia counties were entertained at a barbecue and fish dinner by Robert Hatcher, mayor of Richmond, who marked the completion of the McDuffie road in Richmond county.

Among the guests were Sheriff P. A. Crawford, Ordinary P. M. Hunter and J. E. Blanchard, of Columbia county; Sheriff Horace Hare and Sheriff George Loker, of McDuffie county; and Messrs. Martin Hays and George L. Harker, of Richmond county.

S. P. C. A. IN AUGUSTA AFTER GROCERYMEN

Augusta, Ga., May 2.—(Special.)—The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has taken up the matter of grocerymen leaving chickens in small cages stand all day in the hot sun, and the police will see to better these conditions.

It is also recommended by the society that the horses be given their summer bonnets at once.

HUERTA REALIZES HIS DOOM IS NEAR

Reports Current in Mexico Indicate He Is About to Resign—Accepted Mediation to Save His Face.

Mexico City, May 2.—The situation in Mexico City today had every indication of becoming serious for Huerta Promised to Resign.

El Paso, Texas, May 2.—Several U.S. leaders tonight declared Victor Huerta was ready to step down out under the pressure of his own supporters, and that the only way to avert rebel success as inevitable, constitutionalist leaders said that in account of this belief they would make negotiations with Huerta's faction up as a result of the good office of the Argentina, Brazil and Chile governments.

Rebel leaders in El Paso said good offices of the South American diplomats were accepted by Huerta as a "fig leaf" to cover his "fig face."

of negotiations the Huerta supporters, according to the rebels, to save for themselves what they of their vast properties in Mexico possibly some of their privileges.

General Carranza will be present at the sessions of the board of representatives in Washington. Two of representatives will be Rafael Zaran, now in Washington, and Cabrera, now on his way to the United States from Spain. Cabrera was president of the chamber of deputies in Mexico City before the revolution broke out. Two more may be appointed in the persons of Jose Vasconcelos

The attitude of Carranza's agents is said, will be defensive. They regarded the Huerta as a necessary evil, for the Huerta porters privileges which the rebels feel assured they can control. Carranza's attitude is not other than the unconditional elimination of Huerta and the complete recognition of Carranza and the Huerta as the chief.

"We have the revolution won now," chief of the revolution today said. "We do not accept any compromise, for the revolution is intended to wipe out the last vestige of feudalism and the last vestige of any significant concessions to the bourgeoisie, and we cannot make any compromise without leaving a trail of blood behind us." He said there has been the "destruction of our country."

The departure of Villa from Cuernavaca for the first today said that the impending departure for the south indicates the rebel intention to prosecute the rebellion.

At Cuernavaca, the attorney of Samuel de la Cruz, a legal member of the junta, said the federals have fought their real battle against the rebels in the last few days.

"We are now free to defend Saltillo," said, "for the desert south of the city is now in our hands."

VERA CRUZ, MEX., May 2.—Bull fighting will be barred in Vera Cruz if the state legislature passes a bill today.

SPLENDID PROGRESS IS REPORTED AT EXECUTIVE BOARD MEETING

The executive board of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, in session assembled, April 29, reported most important business.

Best was all the statement that Georgia has met her full assessment of $2,000 for the General Federation endowment fund, adding to her White Memorial.

Further splendid report from Mrs. Belling Jones, Georgia state secretary, shows Georgia now the banner state in the southeastern section, having federated with the national organization ten new clubs.

There are included in our president's report at the Chicago bimble 223 clubs in the state, representing approximately 25,000 members, twenty-two clubs in the General Federation, twenty-two in the United Daughters of the American Revolution, and one in the Confederate Daughters of the American Revolution.

Our officers and delegates will be justly proud to represent Georgia club women at the bimble.

Financial Statement.
 A complete statement of the finances of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs was given by Mrs. J. F. Fitzpatrick, president, showing a balance of $1,000.00, and the trustees are now a chartered corporation in the Constitution.

Mrs. Nellie Peters Black, president of the Atlanta County club, reported the successful work for Tallulah, and urged her to continue her efforts. This resolution was heartily endorsed.

Since last meeting of the board, Mrs. Black reported $150.00 for Tallulah, $220.00 of this amount given by the Atlanta County club.

Co-operation Asked by State Editor

It is with a feeling of pleasant anticipation that I again take up the duties of state editor for the Daughters of the American Revolution of Georgia, after an interval of two years, during which time the office has been ably filled by Mrs. J. H. Harrison, of Columbus, and her gifted assistant, Mrs. Howard McCall, of Atlanta.

That I am again chosen by the Daughters of Georgia to fill this office I construe as an endorsement and an exhibit of appreciation of my work of more than two years as former state editor; my reelection is therefore very gratifying and I promise to serve the Daughters, as an organization, as well as individuals, the very best that my ability and surrounding circumstances will allow.

The publicity department of any organization is one of its most important. Its purpose is to give to the reading public a knowledge of the work being done by the body, to give to the members helpful information concerning the work the different branches are engaged in, and most important, to furnish fresh life and inspiration to the whole.

As state editor I represent more than 2,540 Daughters of the American Revolution of Georgia, living in every part of the state, yet I would have each chapter to feel that I am its personal representative, and to realize the importance of its help in furnishing news for the "Column." As new feature I expect to run a "D. A. R. Current Events" section, in which will appear short items of interest from state chapters and of national events. Its success will depend upon the chapters themselves.

The subjects of historic and patriotic interest which I hope to make prominent (not to the exclusion of other subjects nor because they are the most important, but for the reason that they are neglected and are therefore important) are: First, the old Indian trails and early stage roads of Georgia. Every piece of information about the location, history and romance of these arteries of trade and travel which poured the young life of our state, I wish to gather from anyone who can contribute even a single word or fact.

Second, the old Indian trails and early stage roads of Georgia. Every piece of information about the location, history and romance of these arteries of trade and travel which poured the young life of our state, I wish to gather from anyone who can contribute even a single word or fact.

The May Festival.

The annual May festival which takes place at the home of Uncle Remus is being planned this year on an elaborate scale. The program is: Queen, Louise Nichols; scepter-bearer, Russell Edwards; Harold Woodworth and William Hartman will carry the canopy of white roses over the queen. The crown will be made of lilacs of the valley and maiden hair. The crown will be placed on a white satin pillow and the queen will be crowned in the booth. The little queen will kneel on the white satin pillow, when Miss Katharine Vickers, last year's queen, placed the crown on her brow. The large white throne will be made entirely of ivy and white roses. When the orchestra begins, the following knights will step upon the lone platform leading to the throne: Harry Wintlock, Lucien Haxette, Edgar Wilson, Brevard Montgomery, Clifford Smith and Joe Longene. The first knight reaches the throne, the first maid of honor steps upon the platform from beneath the lower crimson rambling roses in Mrs. Louisa Haxette's garden. As she nears the throne she is met by her knight and they, who reign upon the throne until the new queen arrives. Miss Vickers has chosen as her maid of honor Miss Marie Kerkhof, whose dress will be white children over pale blue satin, and Miss Vickers will wear a lace robe over pink satin. The following young girls have been chosen as the queen's maids of honor: Laura Jenkins, Annabeth Smith, Mildred Ryan, Fay Pitts, Evelyn Jordan and Jane Riley. Just in front of the queen the following dainty little flower maidens and pages will scatter roses for the path: Flower girls, Isabelle Montgomery, Marie Rose Hayer, Cynthia Ward, Katharine Northington, Lella McBride, Margaret McMillan, Nellie McMillan, and Con. Jr., J. O. Skinner III, Julian Kelly, Fritz Wagner, Jr., Evelyn Vinson.

Robert Hopkins, Jr., John Coursey, St. Elmo Muncie, Jr.

Dinner Party.

SUFFRAGISTS RALLY ON STEPS OF THE CAPITOL

Mrs. Mary L. McLendon, Miss Ida May Blount and Others Make Speeches.

Several hundred local advocates of equal suffrage gathered at the capitol steps at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon to celebrate suffrage day. Some of the speakers were in hall in parts of the United States.

The local gathering was largely composed of women, who are members of the several suffrage organizations. But there were several men in attendance who evinced a lively interest in the proceedings.

Mrs. Frances Whitehead presided over the meeting. In a short speech she introduced Rev. A. R. Hildreth, pastor of Moore Memorial church. Dr. Hildreth spoke with earnestness in his conviction that in a short time the women of Georgia would be granted the privilege of the ballot.

Mrs. Mary L. McLendon, who for years has been a leader in the suffrage cause, made a striking address, in which she urged the women to be patient and to wait the right time to vote. She said that the women had the right to vote by constitutional amendment. This was adopted. She also read the declaration of independence.

Miss Ida May Blount made the principal speech of the afternoon. It was a convincing argument and was frequently greeted by applause. Among other things she stressed the fact that upon the right of suffrage depended the health of children, for women, naturally took more interest in matters of hygiene and sanitation—things with which men did not concern themselves. She said that the argument that men represented women properly represented a woman, men and women were equal. The only fair, the only logical thing was to give the women the right to vote and that there would be no question of misrepresentation.

The program was brought to a close by Rev. Fred A. Line, pastor of the Universalist church, who made a strong plea for universal suffrage.

LITTLE LIGHT THROWN ON CHARGES OF FRAUD

Washington, May 3.—After a brief session today of inquiry into the financing of the House of Representatives, the numerous financial operations of the Metropolitan Steamship line, the interstate commerce commission today adjourned its investigation of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad until Wednesday.

The commission is endeavoring to determine whether the railroad, which the billiard company was organized to come from the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, had been organized to defraud the public.

CAILLAUX CHALLENGES OPPONENT TO A DUEL

Paris, May 3.—Joseph Caillaux, who was re-elected to the Chamber of Deputies in the general election held last week, has challenged to a duel the chamber against him in the Chamber of Deputies.

M. Caillaux resigned the ministry of finance after the election. He was replaced by M. Clemenceau.

"MOVIES" WIN TRIUMPH OVER CHICAGO CENSOR

Chicago, May 3.—The "movies" triumphed over the censor today when Judge Taubert issued a writ of habeas corpus permitting public display of a prohibited film.

DRIVES HEAVY BUS INTO CROWD ON STREET

Augusta, Ga., May 3.—(Special.)—A drunken negro drove a heavy bus into a crowd of men and women on a street today, and was killed. The driver was killed by the impact of the bus on the crowd.

3,576 Names Now on the Rolls Of State Sanitarium for Insane

Milledgeville, Ga., May 3.—(Special.)—Contained in the annual report of the Georgia State sanitarium for 1913, which has just been completed, are a number of facts which will be of interest to the public. This great institution, ranking as one of the two or three largest in the United States, is charged with the care of the chronic as well as the curable insane of the state, and is supported entirely by the state, not being allowed to receive pay patients.

The number of patients on hand January 1 were 3,576, a gain of 17 in the previous year. The number of new cases admitted during the year was 1,289, or 241 more than in 1912. The net increase in its population is now about 185 annually. The cost to the state was $14,232 per patient, or 42 cents daily. The farm, gardens and dairy at the institution greatly contribute toward its support.

The number of patients in the work of medical department, where much progress has been made in the last five years toward greater efficiency in the special purpose for which it was created. A training school for nurses is now in operation, and contributes greatly toward the improvement of the medical department of the service. Graduate nurses are in charge of all the sick wards.

The sanitarium has on its roll 1,599 negro patients, and the one main building is kept for more room than the new patients of this race can be received until such vacancies occur by reason of death or discharge. The board estimates the fear that the high death rate existing among the race may be due in part to the overcrowded condition here.

HARRIS IS PRAISED AS CENSUS DIRECTOR

Congressman Heflin Tells the House of the Georgian's Efficient Work.

Washington, May 3.—(Special.)—William T. Harris' work as director of the census was cordially praised on the floor of the house today in a speech by Representative J. Thomas Heflin, of Alabama.

The applause which greeted the remarks was evidence that Mr. Harris has made many friends in congress by his efficient management of his important bureau. Mr. Heflin was making political speech and discussing conditions in various government departments.

As a member of the house committee on agriculture I am brought into close contact with the census bureau, which is charged with the collection of agricultural statistics," said Mr. Heflin.

He then declared that Mr. Harris had brought about more reform in his bureau than any bureau chief in Washington, had stricken from the rolls many who were rendering no service, and had gathered useful information for the farmers of the country.

One of the reforms he has instituted has been to reduce the number of thousands of dollars to the cotton harvest. This made the cotton crop appear larger than it was and affected the cotton market.

Mr. Heflin said Director Harris was always pleasant, polite and courteous and had drawn the bureau close to him.

COL. ROOSEVELT TELLS OF HARDSHIPS ON TRIP

Rio De Janeiro, Brazil, May 3.—Theodore Roosevelt has just dispatched from Manaus to Dr. Lauro Muller, the Brazilian minister of foreign affairs, thanking him and the Brazilian government for its solicitation of his stay in South America.

Colonel Roosevelt in his telegram to the Brazilian minister says that he had a very successful trip for thirty-five days, and was very successful.

"Our journey was one of hardship and at times dangerous, but it was very successful. For thirty-five days we struggled with the rapids of the Amazon river."

GRADY MONUMENT, SCOURED SATURDAY, LOOKS LIKE NEW

A little soap and water and a little energy have transformed the Grady monument, Marietta and Forsyth streets, into a thing of beauty and a delight to beholders. Following the Constitution's comment on the deplorable condition of the statue, the city sanitary department put a force of men at work on the monument bright morning and the result was seen yesterday afternoon. It was really cleaned.

The granite base was washed and polished, and the bronze piece was brightened. The statue now has the appearance of being brand-new, and is attracting attention of passers.

POLICE AND POLITICS OR WHEN DO YOU WANT IN OFFICE?

An Interesting and Unique Interview With a Candidate Who Is Undergoing His First Experience in Politics

In the race for County Commissioner is one man who occupies a more distinct and unique position than almost any man who ever offered for office in Fulton County.

An advertising solicitor noising around among the candidates for "space fillers," whereby his employers would be justified in handing him his weekly stipend, chanced upon this man.

"How much space tomorrow?" he asked the candidate.

"Space," echoed the well-known business man now seeking the vote of this county. "I don't want any space at all. You know, young man, politics is a funny thing. Really the political side of a campaign—the hobnobbing—the mixing around with politicians—the soliciting of voters—the indirect promises that some people want you to make—is foreign to my nature. In fact, it doesn't appeal to me at all."

"This is your first taste," ventured the solicitor, "and maybe you don't understand the game."

"Understand—no, I don't. Here I was, a plain, business man, going about attending to my own business, being well and at peace with the world, when here comes along a big delegation of citizens—business men as well as working men—and insist that I must serve county as a commissioner. Finally, persuaded, I entered the race. Of course, I greatly appreciate their confidence and compliment, and also the great number of promises of support made to me, which clearly indicate my election, but here I am hand-shaking around, neglecting my business, naturally spending some money, and all for what? An effort to get an office which a few months ago I had never thought of filling—or filling any other office, for that matter."

"And do you know," said the candidate with emphasis, "actually, when I speak to some of the good business men around here, they tell me that they either ask me the question or they give me a look which indicates—"

"All right, I'll vote for you, but what in the h— do you want with the office?"

Not better opportunity was ever offered the county to put into office a good, clean, practical business man, and hosts of Fulton citizens hope and predict that Mr. Hightower will be elected next Tuesday.

Mr. Hightower, as stated, is not a politician. His friends—and there are great numbers of them who know his worth as an honest, successful business man—put him into the race for County Commissioner. They declared it is time to eliminate party politics—strife—bickering—from county affairs, and they knew men of Mr. Hightower's type was just the kind of man needed. He is the head of the Hightower Box & Tank Company, employing a great number of men, and he is said to have credit, has never had a jar among his employees. In a few months ago he had never thought of filling—or filling any other office, for that matter.

"And do you know," said the candidate with emphasis, "actually, when I speak to some of the good business men around here, they tell me that they either ask me the question or they give me a look which indicates—"

GRAMMAR LEAGUE TEAMS PLAY THEIR LAST ROUNDS

The two local grammar school leagues will bring their season to a most successful close with the play during the present week.

Normal, on the north side, and Oakland, on the north side, are looked upon as probable winners of the two leagues. They will likely meet in a three-game series to determine the championship of the city.

Normal will play Oakland on Friday night at 7:30. The game will be played at the Normal school.

Stone Mountain 12, Boys' High 5.

Stone Mountain won a big surprise at the game on last Friday, when they succeeded in defeating the strong Boys' High team by the score of 12 to 5.

The Mountain boys started things off in the very first inning, as they scored seven runs in the first four innings. In this round they hit the ball hard, and managed to send four runs in the first inning.

Boys' High did not play until the third inning, when they scored one run. In the fourth inning, Stone Mountain scored three runs, and in the fifth inning, they scored two runs.

The big bat of Barber was one of the main reasons of the Mountain's success. He hit a home run in the first inning, and another in the fourth inning.

All-round playing of the Mountain team was the reason of their success. They played a hard game, and won by a comfortable margin.

PREP BINGLES AND BONES

The race for the confalon in the local prep league has been somewhat decided up by the fast-flying Tech High aggregation of ball tossers. Of late, the Culverites have come forward with such a dash as to surprise even their most ardent supporters. Tech High appears to be about the only real good ball club in the league. The others seem to be very evenly matched.

The tennis bug has started to buzz around the ears of the prep. All several of the schools have signed up for tennis, and the game is now in full swing.

Speaking of hammering that old prep, you and your big gun, that is, the prep, is now in full swing. The prep is now in full swing, and the pupils are enjoying their vacation.

AD MEN TAKE CHARGE OF BALL PARK MAY 27

Proceeds Will Be Used to Advertise Atlanta at Toronto Convention.

Wednesday, May 27, will be a big day at the ball park. The Atlanta Ad Men's club will have full charge of the game that day. They need money with which to put off some advertising stunts for Atlanta when they go to the annual advertising convention at Toronto, Canada, early in June. The baseball association proposes to assist them raise the money. The ad men get a good percentage of the proceeds from the game May 27.

The Ad Men's club is getting out and hustling to raise the necessary funds with which to carry out their proposed advertising stunts at Toronto by selling tickets to the baseball game May 27.

Every loyal Atlanta is asked to attend the baseball game on Wednesday, May 27, not only for the enjoyment of the game, but to, in a small measure, repay the ad men for their constant boosting of Atlanta.

CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS WILL HAVE EXAMS SOON

There may be a good many more certified public accountants in Georgia after May 21. And then again, there may not.

The state examinations take place in Atlanta May 20 and 21.

A number of applications have been received. In pretty nearly any profession except that of accounting, this would mean that an unusual number of new members would be incorporated after the examinations were over.

Public accounting, however, is a profession to which many are called but few are chosen. There are a great many public accountants, but there are few certified public accountants. This is because of that little matter of the examination.

Georgia passed a law in 1908 that no one could call himself a certified public accountant until he had passed the examination.

To become a certified public accountant, one has to be a combination of an adding machine and a mathematician.

The board of accountants of the examining board are at 1000 Empire building. The board, which is appointed by the governor, consists of Joel Hunter, of Atlanta, chairman; Hudson Moore, of Atlanta, attorney; and R. W. Jensen, of Macon, secretary.

Every year, all applications for the one, which are filed with the board before May 10.

FORMER U. S. MARSHAL HELD AS AN EMBEZZLER

Kansas City, Mo., May 2.—A. J. Federal officials say Martin admitted depositing the money to his own account instead of to the credit of the full restitution.

Martin resigned his office in February. He was appointed marshal here by President Taft in 1912.

Fraternity Women Will Rally To Plan Final Work for Bonds

On Monday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, there will be a mass meeting of the Fraternity Women in the city. The session will be held at the University club, and every woman is cordially invited to be present.

The above call means that 400 of Atlanta's most prominent young women will assemble to plan a whirling campaign Monday and Tuesday for the bond issue.

The Fraternity Women have worked continuously for two weeks in the interest of the bond issue; they have visited the different wards in the city, organized neighborhood clubs; spoken in all the public schools, and generally rendered a service which proves what women can do in civic affairs.

Miss Elizabeth Kempton is the president of the Associated Fraternities of Atlanta, and she has been the leading spirit in the bond issue work.

The Emerson society, of Atlanta, has endorsed the bond issue, also the day.

Political society, both of these addressed, in behalf of the greater host, by Mrs. Elizabeth McCarthy, of the Atlanta Equal Suffrage League.

MRS. W. C. SPIKER WILL LECTURE LAW STUDENTS

Mrs. William C. Spiker, president of the Atlanta Law school, will deliver a series of lectures before the students of the Atlanta Law school in training them for a prize oratory contest, according to arrangements completed Saturday between Mrs. Spiker and the dean of the school.

The first lecture will be given by Mrs. Spiker Wednesday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock. The prize contest will be held the first week in June, before the public, the speakers for this occasion being chosen by preliminary contest under the direction of Mrs. Spiker.

Competition between the law students will be keen because of the $20 gold medal offered to the winner of the contest by Hamilton Douglas, dean of the school.

The fellow who is always on the fence must be pretty well balanced to stay there.

The man who is on the winning side must get to the triumph of the day.

THE VICTOR, DR. WOOLLEY'S SANITARIUM

Ready for Patients at the New Location.

OFFICE AND SANITARIUM, 28-22-24 COOPER STREET. A noted institution for the relief of human weakness and suffering. Dr. Woolley has given 40 years of his life to the treatment of drug and alcoholic habit diseases.

SITTING ROOM.

THE VICTOR—DR. WOOLLEY'S SANITARIUM.

BED ROOM.

DR. WOOLLEY'S SANITARIUM. The Victor, has been moved. This wonderful institution for the treatment of whiskey, morphine, heroin, cocaine and all drug addiction, is now located at 28-22-24 Cooper street, entrance at No. 24. The sanitarium is a new building, and is in one building at the new location. The new location is in a building which has been moved from its old location in having laboratories, offices and sanitarium all together. The Dr. Woolley company has purchased and enlarged and completely equipped a building with large grounds centrally located. The building is now receiving patients.

The new location is nearer the city by two blocks than the old. It is just half a block from the corner of Whitehall and Cooper streets, at which point all cars going out Whitehall stop. The building is equipped with electricity, hot water heat and every convenience. It is sanitary in every particular, and able to accommodate a large number of patients. That ever appearance of a hospital, but every surrounding home-like and restful. And just suited to these healing the medical profession is united. The sanitarium is a noted institution that enjoys so much praise and endorsement as The Victor.

The whole of the universal large number of people who have been so successfully treated and cured at this institution is not confined to Atlanta, White or to the state of Georgia. But in every state of the union are to be found those who praise the excellent work done. Nor does the reputation and praise stop with the borders of the United States. These commendations and praises come because hundreds of homes have been made happy because of a habit more deadly than death itself. This reputation has not been built within a day, but it has been built within nearly forty years ago Dr. Woolley, in the study of the opium and whiskey habits and their cure, and for all this time has made their treatment his specialty. This dates back to a period before the best equipped libraries contained books and topics touching on these important subjects. Dr. Woolley has continued to devote his time and study to the treatment of patients afflicted with opium, cocaine and whiskey habits.

Dr. Woolley finds a ready response to any call made on the best physicians of Atlanta when it becomes necessary to call outside assistance on account of complications of disease, where a patient has been placed in the care of Dr. Woolley's sanitarium.

Dr. Woolley has devoted the best years of his life to this work as a means of financial success, but that is not his aim. His aim is to relieve human suffering. He is not only enjoying the confidence of the people, who know him best, but thousands all over the world are singing his praises and continue daily to spread the glad tidings that many of the worst cases, those apparently lost, can be and have been cured by Dr. Woolley. Dr. Vassar Woolley, the son of Dr. B. M. Woolley, and who has devoted to this special practice most of his professional life, is actively associated with his father in charge of this institution. He is a man, ripe in years, of experience and ability. He has been instructed by his father, Dr. B. M. Woolley, and possesses many of the admirable traits of his sire. The Victor is so arranged that there is a marked degree of privacy as to who the patients are in the institution, so far as the general public is concerned. So private are the arrangements that it is possible for persons to remain there for treatment while their friends and acquaintances remain in total ignorance of their whereabouts.

Dr. Woolley will treat successfully cases at the home of the patient when such treatment is preferred, or when a visit to the Victor is impractical. Dr. Woolley's book on the Opium and Whiskey Habits, and their cure, will be sent to anyone free who will write and mention this article.

The best instrument of any institution has been cured and so thousands vitally interested in the happiness of others. The truth of the wonderful treatment and success of Dr. Woolley, Dr. Woolley's sanitarium, is well established and thoroughly proven. The testimonials from grateful patients who have been rescued from worse than death by the treatment by Dr. Woolley have accumulated until they number into the thousands.

I WAS REAL BAD, BUT ENTIRELY CURED ME. NO NEED FOR "DOPE." (Signed) F. B. PATE, D. D. S. GIBSON, N. C.

Gibson, N. C., Jan. 12, 1912.

Dear Doctor—

I should have reported to you long ago, but neglected to attend to it. The last dose of your treatment was taken about thirteen months ago. There was one whole bottle full left which I did not use, and I was very glad to have it. I was in a tolerable good health since and have not had any more of my old trouble. I was real bad, but am entirely well now. You dealt, kindly and honestly with me, and did me a very great benefit. Should I meet with anyone requiring your treatment I will try to prevail on him to apply to you.

Wishing you a long life of continued usefulness, I beg to remain,

Your friend,

F. B. PATE, D. D. S.

I AM A FREE WOMAN FROM THE MORPHINE HABIT. (Signed) MRS. JAMES LANGLEY. THOMPSON STATION, TENN.

Thompson Station, Tenn., March 5, 1912.

Dear Sir—

It is with pleasure that I write to you to let you know that I am a free woman from the morphine habit, and I thank you for it. I can't thank you enough for what you have done for me. I have no desire for morphine since taking your treatment the first of last August.

May God bless you and may you live a long and happy life, and save all you can from the morphine habit. You are at liberty to publish this if you like. Maybe it will help someone.

Yours truly,

MRS. JAMES LANGLEY.

CURED IN 1902 ON WHISKEY HABIT. HAS WRITTEN ANNUAL LETTER EVER SINCE FOR TWENTY YEARS. (Signed) MRS. B. D. WILSON. CLAYTON, OKLAHOMA.

Clayton, Okla., March 25, 1914.

My Dear Old Doctor—

I thank God that I have been spared to live to see another 200 days of life, and so, I can write you that I am still a better man for it. I began your treatment that cured me of my whiskey habit.

May you still live and be the means of curing and saving many more people who have fallen in the bad habit of drinking.

My wife joins in with me, sending you our best regards. We will be glad to see you and to tell you once in a while how we hope we will all meet in that place of rest and peace for all people of God. We hope we will get a letter from you soon.

As ever, your well wisher,

B. D. WILSON.

A TOTAL Wreck FROM MORPHINE. HAVE BEEN FULLY RESTORED TO HEALTH AND FREED FROM MORPHINE. (Signed) MRS. A. S. DENHAM. COLUMBIA, Ga.

1221 Dudley St., Columbia, Ga., Jan. 1, 1912.

Dr. B. M. Woolley, Atlanta, Ga.

Gentlemen—

Your treatment for morphine habit has cured me. I was a total wreck. I was using four grains per day (with needle). It had become a habit, and I was a walking skeleton, and my health is greatly improved. I have done everything I could to get rid of it, but I have failed. I have now a place of bottles of the medicine left of which I haven't taken a dose in two months, and have no desire for it in the least. It only confirms better so, and I am a new man. I weigh 125 lbs. now. I can't say enough for you, and to the state of Georgia. But in every state of the union are to be found those who praise the excellent work done. Nor does the reputation and praise stop with the borders of the United States. These commendations and praises come because hundreds of homes have been made happy because of a habit more deadly than death itself. This reputation has not been built within a day, but it has been built within nearly forty years ago Dr. Woolley, in the study of the opium and whiskey habits and their cure, and for all this time has made their treatment his specialty. This dates back to a period before the best equipped libraries contained books and topics touching on these important subjects. Dr. Woolley has continued to devote his time and study to the treatment of patients afflicted with opium, cocaine and whiskey habits.

Dr. Woolley finds a ready response to any call made on the best physicians of Atlanta when it becomes necessary to call outside assistance on account of complications of disease, where a patient has been placed in the care of Dr. Woolley's sanitarium.

Dr. Woolley has devoted the best years of his life to this work as a means of financial success, but that is not his aim. His aim is to relieve human suffering. He is not only enjoying the confidence of the people, who know him best, but thousands all over the world are singing his praises and continue daily to spread the glad tidings that many of the worst cases, those apparently lost,

AFTER BEING TREATED BY YOU HAVE NOT THE LEAST DESIRE FOR SINGING. I HAVE HAD FOR FIFTEEN YEARS HELD ME IN ITS STEADY GRASP. (Signed) MRS. C. P. HILL. LINCOLNTON, N. C.

Lincolnton, N. C., Jan. 18, 1912.

Dr. B. M. Woolley, Atlanta, Ga.

My Dear Doctor—

Over of the 24 last to hand. In reply, beg to say I am enjoying the best of health, and I am a new man. I have had no symptoms of the return of the habit. I have been a stock farm in Virginia for over a year, and I have been a pleasure in answering anyone who will send a self-addressed envelope with stamp. You are at liberty to say my testimonial in any way you choose. I give you this liberty in hope that it may be the means of relief to some one who is suffering as I was before taking your treatment. I shall ever be grateful to you for your medicine.

Yours very truly,

MRS. C. P. HILL.

YOUR TREATMENT HAS COMPLETELY CURED ME OF THE MORPHINE HABIT. I HAVE HAD NO DESIRE AT ALL FOR MORPHINE OR ANYTHING OF THAT NATURE. (Signed) W. B. CROOK. LUNAY, TENN., Dec. 6, 1908.

Lunay, Tenn., July 9, 1912.

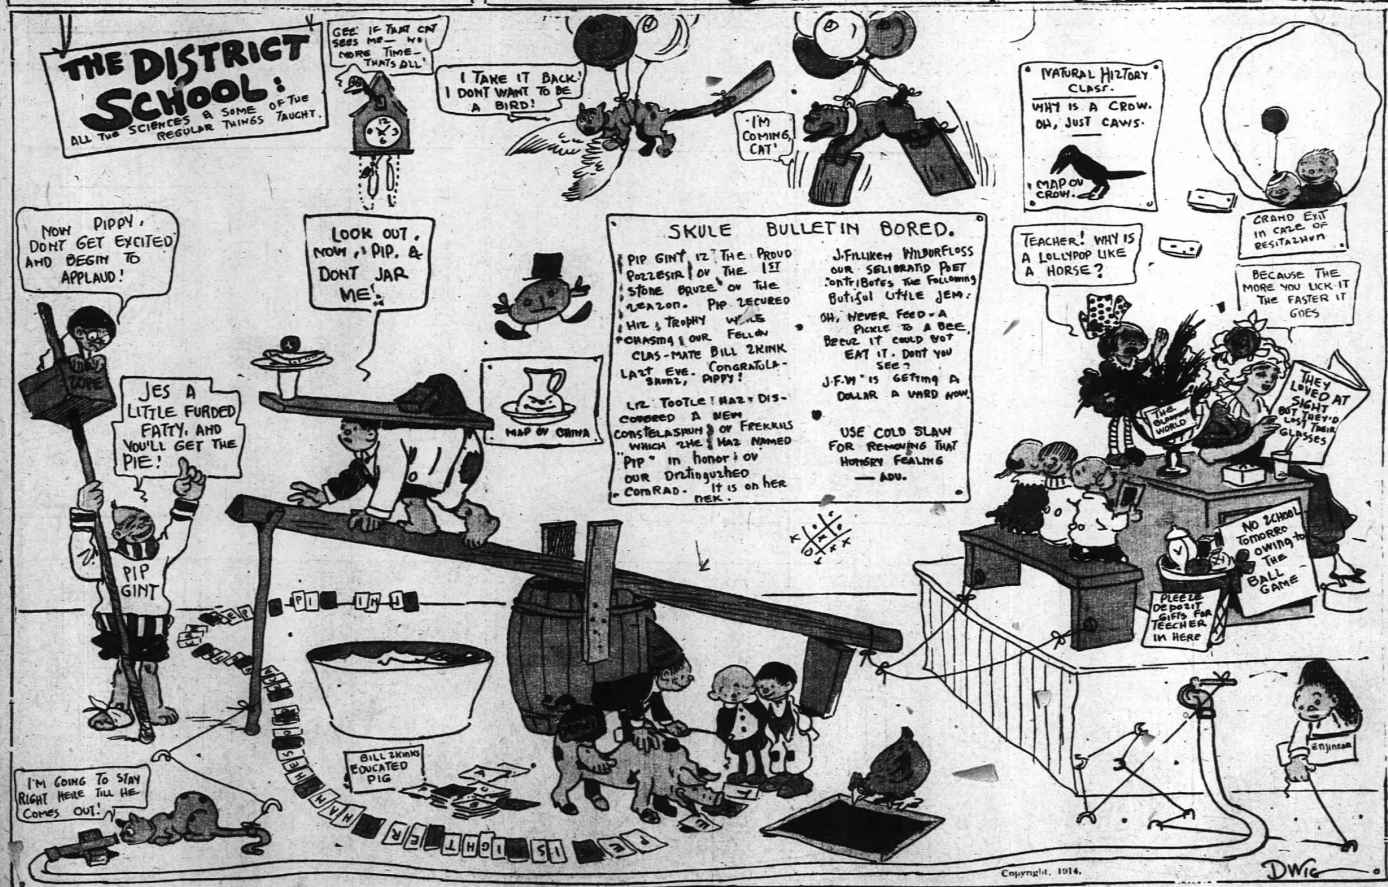

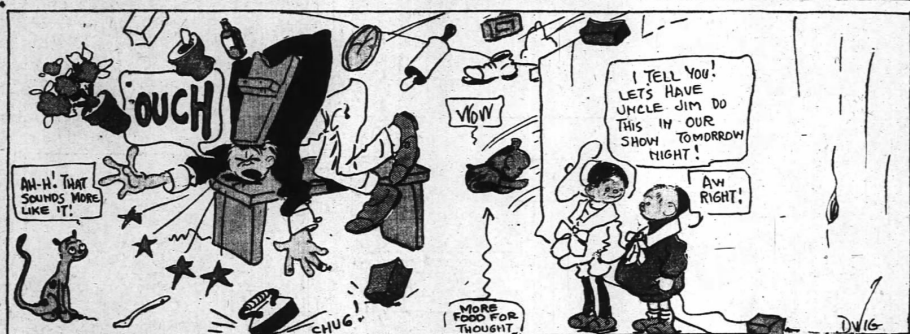

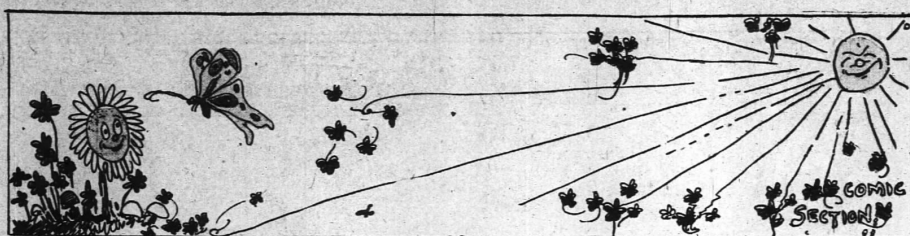

Dr. B. M. Woolley, Atlanta, Ga.

My Dear Doctor—

Yours of the 24 last to hand. I am certainly very glad to hear from you and feel very proud to inform you of my cure, and that I was permanent. I have had no desire whatever for opium or any kind of medicine. My life, I must again thank you, and will always be grateful to you for setting my life on a short while ago I had the pleasure of recommending you to a lady who wrote me about you. You are at liberty to use my name in any way you wish, for I know from experience that your treatment is even more than you claim. Believe you are now doing more good to all suffering humanity. Please send me one of your new books when published, and I will send you many years of health, so you may be able to continue your noble work. I am,

Yours very truly,

MRS. C. P. HILL.

PATRIOTISM AND "PIFFLE."

During the past few days one of our esteemed local contemporaries has permitted itself to become painfully excited at the Sumnerlin incident at Wilcox, Ga. Transferring in Georgia, the incident seemed small in itself. It really was a final focus in application. It reached a final focus at the white house, in Washington.

As illustrating the national difference between patriotism and "piffle," the incident is valuable.

So far as The Constitution is concerned, our editorial comment was based upon a dispatch from our Washington correspondent, reporting the incident in its national bearing. Randolph Sumnerlin, a Wilcox coach boy, was killed during the occupation of Vera Cruz. Shortly afterward, the talk of mediation gained ground. Instantly, the father of young Sumnerlin received a dispatch from a newspaper member of the unofficial war-junta, asking him if he did not think the policy of mediation weak and pulling, and intimating that his boy's death might be better avenged by war and the death of other boys, from Georgia and other states. The reply of the father of Sumnerlin took the country off its feet. He was squarely back of President Wilson. The life of himself and the lives of his four surviving sons was at the disposal of the president. But he applauded the policy of the president and he resented as an effort to drag him into attack on the administration. He was himself so struck with the splendid patriotism here exhibited that he wrote Mr. Sumnerlin a letter which rang through the country.

Our correspondent recognized the more than passing interest of the incident, and wired The Constitution of the Washington sentiment backing the president and denouncing the professional war-junta. Without specializing any paper, since the war-junta, though small, has fellows in each community, The Constitution took occasion to read a lecture to the blood-hunters—the war at any cost boomers.

The Constitution is candid enough to say that, in common with the larger sentiment, we believe, in this country, we have no patience with this mad, murderous and reckless effort to embroil the country in a war that may be a needless one. We said so. And straightway one of the mad head and bloody bones fire-eaters-for-revenue-only, who would swallow a brigade of Mexicans before breakfast, couldn't wait for a declaration of hostilities with Mr. Huerta. It started a little peacefully-conducted war right here in the heart of peaceful Atlanta—and right in the midst of the gayeties of opera week. Because The Constitution approved the admirable course of the president, it was no longer an "independent newspaper." Because in disapproving the "blood-or-bust" policy it happened to agree with another local contemporary, there was at once a deep and dark conspiracy!

No newspaper in the country more vigorously opposed the nomination of Woodrow Wilson than The Constitution. But with The Constitution, when a fight is over it is over. No Mexican methods for us. We don't believe in sniping from house-tops. We don't believe in shooting from behind curtains. We don't believe in hiking to the mountains and waging guerrilla warfare. We don't believe in organizing snipes, in fomenting dissatisfaction for personal reasons. Mr. Wilson is one man. President Wilson quite another. And The Constitution can be big enough to forget partisan differences in the breadth and patriotism of a successful opponent.

War with Mexico would sacrifice thousands of lives and pour out millions of dollars of the tax payers' money. If, in conformance with honor and duty, war is unavoidable, well and good. If an honorable way could be found to avert that war, better still. This country doesn't want Mexico, has no business in Mexico, and would find a fruitful impediment in Mexico as a dependency. That is why, if the president can avoid this calamity, we are willing to give him support to that end.

For listening receptively to the calm proposals of three sister countries for mediation the blood hunters have subjected the president of our country to every attack and indignity open to malice, vindictiveness and hate! He has been caricatured as a demagogue. He has been ridiculed as a fool. He has been pilloried as a weakling and a coward. Never has such a tide of billingsgate and gutter language been leveled at any president since the tragic days of the sixties and seventies. The spectacle was, and is, enough to bring the blush of shame to every American face. For though men differ with the president, they must respect his office.

The Constitution, so far as Georgia is concerned, is in a better position than either of its local contemporaries to discuss the Mexican issue impartially.

First, the impulse to stand by the president because he was originally our presidential choice is lacking.

We were opposed to Mr. Wilson's nomination, but we stand by President Wilson because he is right and because he is president.

Second, because The Constitution, and no one interested in it, is in the slightest degree involved in Mexican investments of any kind.

The mercenary motive cannot, therefore, enter.

If it did, we could subordinate it sufficiently to human life belonging to other people, and millions belonging to other people, and a peaceful future belonging to other people!

We have no black formula for every economic or political disease that may affect the country. We have no ready or bromidic solution on tap for every problem from metaphysics to measles.

But we do have faith in the integrity of President Wilson.

We do hope to avoid a war that would be enormously expensive, in life and other cost, and totally unprofitable, save to a few private individuals.

And in this we speak the mind and heart of the people of Georgia!

Our knowledge of their sanity and our confidence in their patriotism are built on an intimate knowledge of their sentiment and their surroundings, gained by nearly half a century of familiarity with the great reservoir of abiding peace and Americanism, of hatred for sham and hysteria, of love for truth—that is Georgia and that explains Georgia.

ATLANTA AND GRAND OPERA.

Every influence that goes to the making of the "Atlanta spirit" has reason to congratulate itself on the wonderful climax to the fifth consecutive season of grand opera.

No city of any size in America has been able to sustain grand opera in repertoire without substantial support by subsidy.

Atlanta has accomplished this seeming impossibility for five successive years.

The achievement has been wrought by the co-operation of three sources:

Otto H. Kahn, chairman of the board of directors of the Metropolitan Opera company, to whose anxiety to nationalize the scope of grand opera Atlanta's grand opera seasons are primarily to be attributed.

Colonel William L. Peel, the guiding spirit and president of the Atlanta Music Festival association. His initiative and leadership, supported by the encouragement of his fellow directors, has lined up Atlanta and the south solidly behind grand opera. As an embodiment of the "Atlanta spirit" he is a typical explanation of the success of the venture for the past five years.

The "Atlanta spirit" itself, that restless and restless genius, that recognizes no obstacle, and that welds every element in the community back of the enterprises which the ambition of the community underwrites.

Grand opera in Atlanta and for the south is a fixed institution.

Patronage from the entire section has driven home the truth of the statement.

The "Atlanta spirit," present and future, has placed the first impression.

Atlanta's unique pre-eminence over the entire south is again asserted. That is the paramount significance of the week just past.

AN UNNECESSARY CRISIS.

It is a sad travesty on our civilization that President Wilson should have been called upon by the governor of Colorado to send federal troops into the disturbed industrial section of that state. The president expressly stipulated that the troops should be used for "police duty" only, and that the settlement of the controversy was a matter for state jurisdiction. But that an industrial disturbance should have been allowed to proceed these lengths is nothing short of deplorable.

The spectacle in Colorado recalls deploringly the days of the Chicago riots, when Cleveland sent federal troops into the disaffected district, with the consequences yet fresh in the public mind.

It was hoped that since then both capital and labor had made sufficient progress to see the futility of stubbornness, and that public sentiment should have learned its right to demand either the speedy restoration of order or, what is better still, the prevention of the trouble altogether.

Whatever the result, Colorado, this ought to be the last time the nation is called on to exercise armed intervention in industrial disputes.

It has been shown conclusively that mediation and arbitration are virtually all-powerful in adjusting differences between employer and employee. One or the other of the influences have been requisitioned in mammoth railroad disputes, in factory wrangles, in every field where bitterness and obstinacy might be expected to impose insuperable obstacles. And mediation and arbitration have accomplished satisfactory results.

The pity and injustice are that the public, innocent bystanders, should be compelled to suffer from the intractability of the two warring parties. In the long run, concession and compromise prevail. There is no valid reason why they should not rule from the start.

An ounce of arbitration or mediation is worth several tons of violence, recrimination, intolerance, slaughter.

DIVORCE AND THE CHILD.

Chief Justice Adol. J. Pett, of the circuit court of Chicago, has handed down the opinion that no divorce shall be granted an applicant where a minor child is involved, unless it be shown to the satisfaction of the court that due provision is made for the child. Justice Pett's decision is based upon an analysis of the report of the municipal bureau of divorce and marriage statistics, returned recently for the first year of its operation. The report discloses that there are more than 5,000 divorces a year granted in Cook county, of which Chicago is the county seat, and that in two-thirds of the cases actions were brought by women.

There are two cardinal objections to widespread and indiscriminate divorce in this country: (1) The questionable status of children; (2) Loosening of the marriage bond, with its attendant demoralization of the home, and society of which the home is the chief pillar.

Our present promiscuous and conflicting divorce laws, as effective in the various states, are productive of a deplorable condition. The mischief varies, from South Carolina, which grants no divorce for any cause whatever, to some of the western states, that grant divorce upon farcical pretenses.

The children of these unhappy misalliances may be legitimate in one state and occupy a questionable legal status in another. The legal complications, need not to speak of the moral confusion, need not be elaborated.

Justice Pett is right in placing the welfare of the child as an irreducible minimum to the granting of all divorces. It is, of course, extremely unfortunate when men and women who have made matrimonial errors awake and seek release. But a price they pay for their mistake is, or should be, scrupulous safeguarding not only of the material welfare of the children they have brought into the world, but as well the legal status of the children also.

A uniform divorce law, touching as it would the very fundamentals of society and civilization in every state, is the one logical solution. Pending the materialization of such a law, the best we can hope is that the legislatures of the various states will act with a measure of co-operation, and that the house of governors also will do their part.

A BENEFACTOR.

The state of Florida has just unveiled, in the Washington hall of fame a statue to Dr. John Gorrie, a native of Florida, who invented the machine for the artificial manufacture of ice.

If the test of eligibility to the hall of fame is service to mankind, Gorrie has richly earned his distinction. In a sense he is fit to be commemorated side by side with one of Georgia's candidates, Dr. Crawford W. Long, who first used anesthesia.

The man who perfected the ice machine robbed summer of half its terrors for civilization, brought a soothing influence to the sick-room and made long distance refrigeration of meats and meats a possibility.

History will write him down as contributing in almost equal measure to the cause of humanitarianism and the cause of commercialism and industry.

Huerta's dictatorship is now confined to an overworked typewriter.

Huerta has all the limelight he wants, but the more they turn on him the uglier he looks.

They say Huerta's treasury is as empty as his head—when the lasting good of his country is at stake.

It's "Hope for the best," but if the best in the world is not available the country will have a single-track mind to Mexico City.

Daily Grind From the State's Political Grind

INTEREST IN MIDDLE GEORGIA.

CENTERS IN GOVERNOR'S RACE
Macon, Ga., May 2.—(Special).—Interest here in the political situation is now centered in the line-up for governor and the decision of two men who are being mentioned as probable victors. Judge Thomas, of Valdosta, and Governor Spalding, of Macon, both of whom are said to be on the verge of cutting their throats and putting out to sea in search of the haven known as the governorship.

What effect the formal announcement of Judge Nat. S. Harris, of Macon, will have on these two prospects is not definitely known, but friends of Judge Harris say that if one or both of them decline to enter it will make Judge Harris' chances all the brighter.

Some "inside" information that has reached Macon seems to make it pretty certain that Judge Thomas is going to run. It is said that a good portion of the state centered about Valdosta pledged Judge Thomas that it will give him an almost undivided support and with a backing as strong as this Judge Thomas feels that his chances would be equally as good as those of the other candidates.

A couple of well-known politicians from Spauldine in Macon today, and expressed the opinion that if Spauldine does not run, that section of the state will give a pretty strong support to Judge Harris, of Macon.

Since the mass meeting of Thursday night when Judge Harris made his formal announcement, telegrams and letters of congratulation have been pouring in on the distinguished Macon politician.

Felder Quiet on Harris.
Senatorially speaking, things appear to be at a standstill here. Thomas S. Felder is plugging away at his headquarters in the Lanier hotel writing to his friends throughout the state endeavoring to line them up in his behalf. He has been making no public speaking dates, nor has he received first word from John T. Boleff, whether or not the latter will enter the race for congress from the sixth district or take up the two other parties. Dan Long run, concession and compromise prevail. There is no valid reason why they should not rule from the start.

The Mystery of the Dreams

By FRANK L. STANTON.
(Copyrighted by The Constitution.)

I.
Folded deep in the dreams they slept.
Nor heard the night-wind creep.
And they knew not that God's angels kept
Watch where the children sleep—
When the dream-mists veil the mother's face
That the angels take the mother's place.

II.
Oh, sweet is sleep on a mother's breast
As the lull-song dies away.
But her tired eyes—they need God's rest
After the weary day:
Eyes with tears of the years to weep,
Thankful they for the gift of Sleep.

III.
This is the thing the angels know,
And thus when falls the night
They steal from Heaven to Earth below
To add a path of Light
To guide where God through the Darkness smiled
On the dreaming face of a little child.

IV.
"Rest you, Mother: the goodnight kiss
Upon your child's lip pressed;
The children of your love are His
Who called them to His breast:
He sends His angels from far skies—
Their lips kiss down their dreaming eyes."

V.
One night the angels read the dreams
Of a little child so sweet:
He wandered by celestial streams
And walked a golden street:
From Darkness came a deathless Dawn
The lights of Heaven lured him on.

VI.
Stars were his playthings—that high place
Sweeter than Earth did seem;
He saw not on the Mother's face
Tears that were not a dream!
The place left lonely on the breast

VII.
And—mystery of mysteries,
The veil of Sleep was riven:
The mother, in a dream of sighs,
Saw his dream-flight to Heaven,
And followed through night's shadowy bars
And all the gateways of the stars.

VIII.
"Far for the little feet to roam
From mother-love apart!
Lead him, kind angels, lead him home—
Back to a mother's heart!
Give back my dreaming child tonight,
Lost in the everlasting Light!"

IX.
Through lanes of highest stars aflame
The angels passed from view
Saying: "Thy mother calls thy name
And weeps the long night through
Hath Heaven for thee so perfect rest
As that upon thy mother's breast?"

X.
When came the Dawn his star-bright eyes
Unto the Light were given:
His mother's face a sweet surprise—
He had come back from Heaven!
"Mother," he said, "my sweet dream knew
There was no mother there like you!"

XI.
"Let angels," said the Mother then,
"Keep where the Heaven-lights gleam:
I shall not lose my child again
Even in a dream—a dream!
Here is the home his love hath blest—
The heaven of a mother's breast!"

Many Needs of Grady Hospital Clearly Shown in This Summary

Here is a summary of the situation at Grady hospital. If you are not acquainted with it, this summary will tell you exactly what Grady needs, and why. On May 3—day after tomorrow—the Greater Grady bond issue will be decided. Your vote may say whether Atlanta is to have a new and modern hospital, or whether it is to go on with an inadequate, worn-out institution.

Louisville, Ky., with a population of 250,000, has a modern, million-dollar hospital for 450 patients; Augusta, Ga., with 45,000 people, has a hospital with a capacity of 215 patients; Worcester, Mass., with a population of 165,000, accommodations for 340 patients; St. Paul, Minn., with a population of 215,000, accommodations for 490.

Atlanta, with a population of more than 250,000, has a hospital which accommodates only 185 patients and accommodates them badly. In this respect, Atlanta is miles behind every other city of its size in the country.

This is because, since Grady hospital was started in 1852, one city has added to it only one building. While other cities have been steadily improving their hospitals, Atlanta has remained inactive. What Grady hospital needs, and why?

More Rooms.

Its normal capacity is 185 patients. About 210 are now crowded within it. From 15 to 20 sick people are turned away every day. Grady needs more room for general patients, white and black. This will cost $250,000.

New Clinic and Emergency Facilities.

All emergency cases and all visiting patients are now treated in the same outdoor clinic. Whites and blacks both go to the clinic if they were hurt on the street in the next hour, you would go to it. Grady needs new and separate clinics for whites and blacks. These will cost $125,000.

Contagious and Isolation Ward.

The present contagious ward for whites is an old, overcrowded, single room, with a single bed, and a single mattress, with a single pillow. It is like the present contagious ward for blacks. Grady hospital needs a new contagious ward for whites and a new contagious ward for blacks. These will cost $125,000.

Wards for Children and Women.

The present ward for white women in confinement is a dark, unventilated room, in the oldest part of the hospital. Take Part in Benefit

Misses Lois Weather, Magie Lee Oglesby and Elsie Stephens transformed from the heathen graces into the Christian graces of Faith, Hope and Charity. This scene is taken from "The Court of Juno," a biblical drama to be given at the Atlanta theater, May 27, by the Hanna school, at their benefit commencement, and in the interest of the Julia Jackson chapter, C. of C.

It is necessary, sooner or later, Atlanta must have them.

Points to Remember.

The pay ward will take care of the interest and principle of the Grady bonds. A committee of citizens will oversee the expenditures of the bond money. By city ordinance, the pay ward will be open to all of the physicians of Atlanta.

The Greater Grady has been endorsed by every prominent organization in commerce. This includes the Atlanta Federation of Labor, the chamber of commerce, the Rotating House, association, the Fulton County Medical society, and the Rotary club.

The election takes place on May 11—Tuesday. To pass the bonds must have two-thirds of the registered vote. You fail to vote, you vote against the bond issue.

The bond issue will be close to the final vote. Look for them. It is the business of every citizen to help the Greater Grady hospital from Atlanta.

Vote for the Grady Bonds.

MANY CANDIDATES IN WARE CAMPAIGN

Waycross, Ga., May 2—(Special).—Accounts of the official announcement of Secretary H. H. Wilson, of the county executive committee, forty-one candidates qualified up to today for the primary, which will be held May 10.

A race for representative was announced by the entry at the last month of all candidates, making seven in all. These are: Calvin W. Parker, who failed to receive the necessary signatures; Parley A. Merion, L. C. Cooper, J. Lee Crawford, and M. Williams, who withdrew.

Gainesville Home Burns.

Gainesville, Ga., May 2—(Special).—The Gainesville, Fla., fire department reported that a fire last night in all parts of the town. The damage is estimated at about $1,000. In addition to the burning of the Patterson residence, an adjoining house that is used as a livery house suffered considerable damage. Both houses were partially covered by insurance.

GENERAL EVANS HERE, WILL NOT TALK WAR

Commander of Eastern Division, in Atlanta, Won't Discuss Mexican Situation.

Brigadier General Robert K. Evans, commanding the eastern division, reached Atlanta yesterday. General Evans spent a busy day at his home on Peachtree street. All he would say to reporters was that he was glad to get back home again.

General Evans courteously declined to talk war, and so amount of begging or coaxing could bring forth one syllable on that subject. Nor would he talk of the army maneuvers, or of duties in Washington.

According to press dispatches from Washington, General Evans is here to look after the eastern division matters, which will be included in the first army corps command in the southern states.

General Evans is enjoying splendid health.

DR. RIDLEY RETURNS; SERVICES ANNOUNCED

Dr. Charles A. Ridley, pastor of the Central Baptist church, who has been in North Carolina on a visit of the week, returned Friday noon and will preach at both the morning and evening hours. The subject of the morning hour will be "Jesus, the Good Shepherd." Subject for the evening hour is "And He Said Tomorrow."

POLICEMAN SEES WIFE SEND BULLET THROUGH HEART

Savannah, Ga., May 2—(Special).—Mrs. Hallie Brant, wife of Patrolman R. G. Brant, committed suicide this afternoon by shooting herself through the heart with a pistol. She was in her bedroom at the time and it is understood her husband was with her. She died a few minutes after firing the shot.

It is reported that she had been threatening to end her life for some time. From the preliminary inquest made by the coroner, Mrs. Brant was dependent because of her continued ill health.

The muzzle of the 28-caliber revolver was pressed to her left breast the bullet passing through her heart.

Mrs. Brant was about 35 years of age. She leaves no children.

Good Roads for Telephone Talk

The good roads movement has not been confined to the highways.

The Bell Telephone system has covered the country with "good roads" for telephone talk, reaching every nook and corner.

There are more than 12,000,000 miles of these "good roads" in the Bell system. Some of them are strung in single pairs or in aerial cables from pole to pole; others are hidden away in underground conduits; they reach the heart of each industrial and commercial center of the nation and to the most remote habitations.

These "good telephone roads" of the Bell system, all operated by one system, under one policy, forming one continuous system of intercommunication, connect more than 7,500,000 telephones for universal service.

"AWAY ABOVE EVERYTHING"

UHLAN—World's Greatest Trotter

BILLINGS' trotting gelding, Uhlán, made historic the 1911 meet at Cleveland, when, August 11, he lowered the world's record held from 1906 by Major Delmar, by covering the half-mile to wagon in 36 1/4 seconds. This clipped 3 1/4 seconds off Major Delmar's mark.

Uhlán's new record is not only the world's trotting record to wagon, but even faster than Major Delmar's record of 59 1/4 seconds to sulky and only a quarter of a second slower than Dan Patch's paced half-mile to sulky behind a wind shield.

What The Grand Jury Says About Sheriff Mangum's Stewardship

His Administration of the Jail Is Vigorously Condemned

The following is a verbatim copy of the Grand Jury's report, filed with the Court May 1st, 1914:

"COUNTY JAIL"

"The Grand Jury, in a body, visited the County Jail, and made a thorough inspection. We found the building in an insanitary condition.

"The cells and corridors are dirty and some of them are littered with paper, empty bottles, cans and scraps of food. We recommend immediate and frequent applications of scrub brush and such other utensils and materials as are necessary to make and keep the Jail clean. * * *

"We noticed in the laundry room a quantity of excelsior, probably twenty-five or more bales. This large supply of inflammable material constitutes a serious fire hazard and exposes the prisoners to grave danger from suffocation in the event of a fire. We recommend that this excelsior be stored elsewhere."

"STATE OF GEORGIA, COUNTY OF FULTON"—
"I, Arnold Broyles, Clerk of the Superior Court of Fulton County, Georgia, do hereby certify that foregoing is a true and correct copy of the report of the grand jury presented for the March term of 1914."

"Witness my hand and seal of Court this, the second day of May, 1914."

(Signed) "ARNOLD BROYLES."

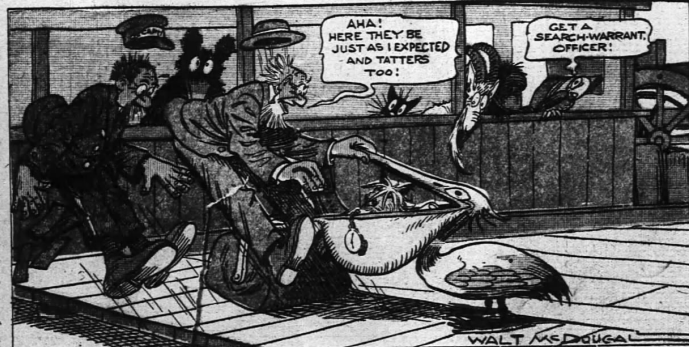

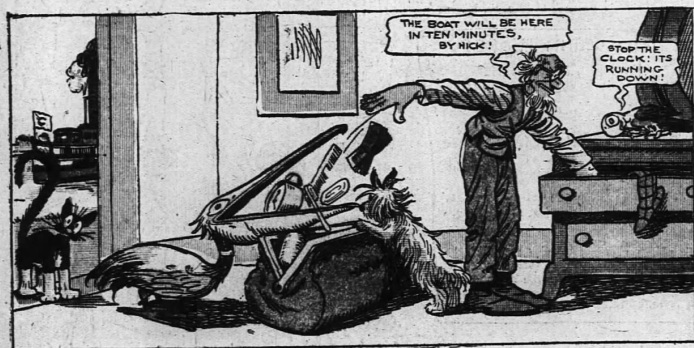

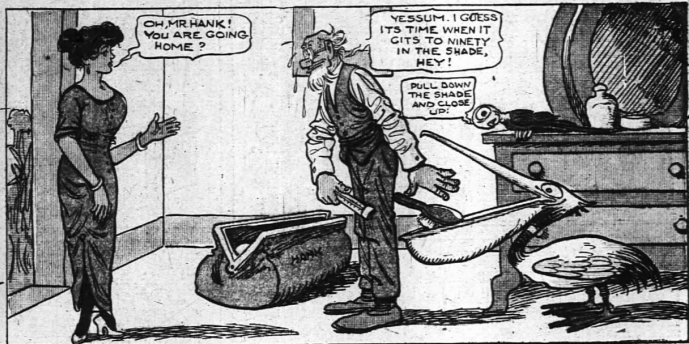

(Seal) "Clerk of Superior Court, Fulton County, Ga."

Elect Capt. W. M. Mayo Sheriff and he will make the Jail his official residence and your county will not be subject to these shameful conditions.

I voted for the salary system. If you favor it vote for me for tax receiver.—W. F. Wesley.

Property Comparison Challenged

Your Judgment Invited

Everybody's Going There

There will be 2,000 homes built in Atlanta within the next year. This is no estimate; it is a fact dug from experience. Atlanta's new population will require that number.

Where are they going? Everywhere; but the choicest, handsomest and best located homes will be built in North Atlanta. Another fact dug out of experience.

Atlanta, like every other city in Class A, is building northward. It is incontrovertible, inevitable. If you want to be in the running, it's time to come to the scratch.

Look, What's There!

All essential city conveniences are already there. You don't have to stop to figure on when water will be supplied or sewers put down. They are there now.

Look at the water plugs on Habersham, Rivers Road, Wesley Avenue, or anywhere else. Here's fire protection right on the spot; it means lower insurance.

Water and sewer connections are made as easily, as quickly, as in the business center. It is the same with electricity and the telephone; everything you need right at hand, waiting for you.

And then it's only 24 minutes trolley time to your business office in the heart of the city, with a 10-minute schedule. Compare this with trolley service to other residence sections; you will find it the shortest, the quickest.

We have the official trolley figures, if you want them.

Just a Few Improvements

Do you know about Battle Avenue and the new North Atlanta school? You do if you read the Atlanta papers; if you don't, it's time to wake up and get acquainted with your city---with what's going on in this rapidly building section.

Battle Avenue, from The Lodge, at Peachtree Road, clear through to the Howell Mill Road, is to be made a 100-foot driveway. Do you get that? A 25-foot park the full length through the center. Paved driveway and cement walks. Federal markers showing positions of troops. Nothing else like it in the South.

Look at the Property

Go look at the lots in Peachtree Heights Park. Consider the size of them, their beauty, their location, the restrictions; give at least that much consideration to the place for the home for your family.

We don't fear comparison; inspection and comparison are what we want. We invite it; we urge it; we challenge it. Make the comparison from every viewpoint, and we stand upon your decision.

We know we've got the best home property in Atlanta; we know that will be the verdict of every unprejudiced judgment.

Atlantans have got to build in Peachtree Heights Park. It's the very next thing in line as well as the best. Go there now and you get your lot far cheaper than if you wait---perhaps for half.

No house on less than a 100-foot lot for fifteen years to come. Beautiful forest trees; most attractive building sites. Everything like you want it for the home.

Go, look at it! Go now!

There's only a fixed and limited amount of home property in Peachtree Heights Park. You cannot find any more like it. Try it. It cannot be manufactured. Get it now and save money. Somebody's else price may be prohibitive.

How to Beautify the Hair

A Simple and Inexpensive Home Method.

The hair is like a flower—a little care and proper nourishment does wonders. Just as a plant without water withers and dies, so will the hair go if not given proper nourishment. The scalp must be perfectly healthy and free from dandruff, as the scalp is the hair's main source of life. If your hair is not pretty, it is lacking its color, too dry, falling out, or if the scalp itches and burns, you can overcome all these conditions by using Parfian's Hair Tonic. It supplies every hair with the right nourishment and keeps the scalp healthy and free from dandruff. It is long and heavy, but fluffy, soft, lustrous and glorious. You can get a bottle of this inexpensive, yet delightful hair tonic from Jacobs' 15 stores or at drug and toilet counters everywhere. Improvement begins with the very first application. Besides stopping the scalp irritation, it removes every bit of dandruff. The use of this tonic will surely give your hair new life and beauty.

Social Club Meeting.

The Whitehall Terrace club met at the home of Mrs. Mallock, Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock. There was a good attendance of the old members and several new ones added to the list. A great quantity of good fellowship had been exchanged, the house was clean and the tables were set for a social gathering. A discussion of literary matters was held, and a paper was read an interesting article on some of the old and progressive topics of the day. It was unanimously adopted that the club should plan for the betterment and uplift of the community. Luncheon was served that was heartily enjoyed by all and each member received a souvenir of the Shriners' emblem, that so uniquely cast the shadow of coming events. The meeting closed with an invitation to meet with Mrs. Gantt, May 13. Each member is earnestly requested to be present as new work of interest to all will be taken up.

McLain-Lewis.

The marriage of Miss Sarah Pearl McLain and Mr. John Haynes Lewis, both of the Presbyterian church, was celebrated in Acworth, Ga., last Wednesday. The church was filled with guests, and the ceremony was an impressive one. The bride was accompanied by Miss Pauline Collins, and the groom by Miss Frances Tipton. The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McLain, were present. The wedding march, played by Miss Collins, was a beautiful feature of the ceremony. The bride and groom were both dressed in white, and the bride wore a large bouquet of white roses. The reception was given at the home of the bride's parents, and was a most enjoyable affair. The bride and groom left for their honeymoon trip north.

Hollingsworth-Strouss.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hollingsworth have been united in marriage at the home of their daughter, Ada, to Mr. William Strouss on Wednesday, April 29. The ceremony was a most impressive one, and was attended by a large number of guests. The bride was accompanied by Miss Pauline Collins, and the groom by Miss Frances Tipton. The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McLain, were present. The wedding march, played by Miss Collins, was a beautiful feature of the ceremony. Fascinating Footwear and Dainty Hosiery for the Tango Devotee Everybody knows the charm of the well-dressed, fashionable woman depends much on the accessories of the toilette; more attention than ever before is paid to the hosiery and footwear of the tango devotee. The slippers harmonize with the stockings, the toilette, and change of hats and all carry out the mode of the day.

The white silk stocking, embroidered, at the side in white is worn with a green slipper, of brocade silk at the left of the page. The slipper has three narrow straps, which fasten in an attractive manner.

Opposite on the right the stocking is of silk tulle, and the cothurne of green satin. Below this on the right is the slipper of black and white satin, worn with stocking of mauve, embroidered in a curious manner at the side.

The gown on this page is of a charming shade of blue taffeta, with collar and wide girdle of black satin. The frills on the sleeves and the bottom of the skirt are finished with half-inch bands of black satin. The appropriate little hat is quite smart and very becoming.

NAVY CHAPLAINS WORRY TRIBLE

Georgian Thinks Episcopal and Roman Catholic Churches are Favored—He Failed to Put Baptist in Navy.

By John Corrigan, Jr.
Washington, May 2.—(Special.)—Representative Samuel J. Tribble, of Georgia, made a sensational speech in the house this afternoon, attacking the appointment of Episcopal and Roman Catholic clergymen in the navy. Mr. Tribble is one of the "little navy" men in the house, although a member of the naval affairs committee. He made a point of order today which will deny the secretary of the navy authority to designate enlisted men to go to Annapolis. By this act Mr. Tribble closed the door of hope to the commission who may be ambitious to fight their way up to the officers of the navy. His explanation was, there are already too many officers in the navy. Secretary Daniels has been earnestly trying to open this navy academy to selected enlisted men who have promise.

Why Tribble is so. Failure to get a Baptist clergyman at the district appointment as chaplain in the navy had made Mr. Tribble sore, and he admitted it. He said that of the twenty-four chaplains in the navy, six were Methodists, six Episcopalians, six Roman Catholics, three Baptists, one Presbyterian, one Congregationalist and one Church of Christ.

How many are the Dutch Reformed church? suddenly inquired Representative Calder, of Brooklyn. Mr. Tribble also objected to the expense of having chaplains stationed at the yards, saying the men could go to the churches in town. "Why should these chaplains be placed at navy yards, where they are not needed?" he asked. "My constituents pay my pastors, and so do those in other parts of the country."

Chaplain Biers Abroad. Mr. Tribble said that navy chaplains had too much authority. "I call attention to the fact that three of these chaplains are abroad."

ITCHING ECZEMA

Use Like Cold Cream to Subdue
Irritation and Clear
the Skin.

Constant or intermittent itching, producing itching and red, angry, broken patches on the skin, is relieved by cold cream. This moment it is applied, the itching ceases and the healing begins, says a noted dermatologist.

It effects such prompt relief, even in aggravated cases, that cold cream has become a source of amusement to physicians. The many years of experience which has occupied a secure position in the treatment of cutaneous diseases, has led to the use of cold cream in the treatment of itching, and it is now a well-known fact that it is the only remedy that will take its place in overcoming irritation, and restoring the skin to its normal condition.

Twenty-three chaplains were born in foreign countries," he exclaimed. "Does that interfere with their equal representation?" he asked. Representative Brien, of Illinois, said: "I do not think so."

"We are able to get men among our own people to teach religion, without calling on foreigners?" he asked. Representative Jefferson Levy, of New York, made some pertinent inquiries about the Hebrews in the navy. He thought there should be a larger number of Hebrews in the navy. That there was not, said Representative Brien.

Representative Tribble found fault with Roman Catholic priests for using the regular mass ritual of their church in conducting services. He quoted testimony given by Father O'Hearn, before the naval house committee, that all Roman Catholics attended the morning service, and the others did not, as they chose. In the evening there was general service consisting of the singing of hymns and psalms.

On the basis of membership, Father O'Hearn's church was entitled to 16 per cent of the chaplains in the navy. Representative Brien commented on the statement that attendance at religious services was optional.

Mr. Tribble requested this statement. He said it had been told by the naval affairs committee. He was asked to attend religious services. He said he had attended. He was asked to give this information. Representative Brien said that he had attended. He said he had attended. He said he had attended.

THE SOUTHERN STATES
MADE THEIR OWN MEAT

That Was Years Ago, But They Can Do It Again—Brooks County Shows Way.

Washington, May 2.—(Special.)—The southern states have made their own meat, produced large numbers of hogs and cured practically all of the bacon necessary to feed the people. At the present time the same cannot be said of a single southern state, and of but few counties in any of these states.

There is something in Georgia, however, that is showing others what can be done. It is showing others that the curing of hogs is not a new thing, but a time-honored industry. It is showing others that the curing of hogs is not a new thing, but a time-honored industry.

PLEASANT WEATHER PROMISED ATLANTA FOR SABBATH DAY

YOUNG MORGAN TO WED MISS LOUISE CONVERSE

By John Corrigan, Jr.
Washington, May 2.—(Special.)—In opposing an amendment to the postal savings bank law, which would have permitted a depositor to carry $2,000 in an interest-bearing account, Senator William S. West made the longest speech he has ever made since entering the senate.

Although he has followed closely the proceedings of the senate, and frequently asked questions inspired by his long business experience, Senator West has not yet made any extended speech. The present postal savings bank law requires a depositor to make in over $100 of deposits in any calendar month, and his total account cannot exceed $2,000. The amendment reported by the senate committee on postoffice and postroads would have raised this limit to $2,000. The house bill removed the limit entirely, but provided that no interest could be drawn on any amount in excess of $1,000.

Senator West showed that the effect of increasing the maximum limit of deposits would be to increase the interest on the deposits. He pointed out that the interest on the deposits would be increased at the time when a man gave in his savings.

What would prevent a depositor from making a deposit of $1,000 in the first of May, and then withdrawing it before the first of June? he asked. "What would prevent a depositor from making a deposit of $1,000 in the first of May, and then withdrawing it before the first of June?" he asked.

MOTION PICTURE USED IN CANNED FOOD EDUCATION

Plan to Show Consumers How Peas Are Produced and Processed.

Incidental to the educational work of the National Canners' association, it is proposed to have a full set of "movies" made to be exhibited throughout the country in the hope of making consumers realize the sanitary and economic food value of various canned foods. It is proposed to have the films taken by Louis S. Williams, manager of the educational department of the Universal Film Manufacturing company. Williams was for many years chief illustrator and photographer of the United States department of agriculture at Washington. He is convinced that there are splendid opportunities in featuring in a film the various operations carried on in food canneries.

HIGHWAY ASSOCIATION TO UNIFY STATES' LAWS

Highway and Bar Associations to Attempt to Harmonize Practice.

Road laws which have been on the statute books of various states for more than a hundred years will probably be repealed as a result of the movement which has been inaugurated by the American Highway association in conjunction with the American Bar association. Committees appointed by the two associations have prepared through the co-operation of the United States office of public roads, a complete compilation of the road laws of all the states, as well as the laws relating to indebtedness, the use of convict labor and various other subjects which have a bearing upon the management of the public roads.

An index chart for these various laws is now being prepared, and as soon as it is completed the committees will determine upon the lines along which the laws should be brought into uniformity.

Legislators as they meet the appointment of special committees to deal with the committees of the two associations with a view to adequate revision of existing road laws.

The first step in the revision of the state road laws will be to recommend that all obsolete, useless or unnecessary road laws be repealed. The next step will be to simplify and unify in logical order the existing roadway laws. Certain basic features of good administration will be urged by the joint committees, such as the payment of road taxes in cash; the elimination of a multitude of unnecessary road officials; new characteristics of many of the states; the requirement of skilled supervision in the actual construction and maintenance of roads by the state; the employment of highway construction forces; the adoption of the appointive rather than the elective method for such officials; the substitution of continuous maintenance for the present intermittent method; the proper utilization of convict labor where climatic and other conditions warrant its use on the public roads; the general adoption of the principle of state aid and supervision of local roads; the adoption of uniform accounting and accounting of road funds.

Ever practicable uniformity among the two laws of the various states, as it is realized that the traffic now controlled by economic conditions rather than by state lines and should not be hampered by conflicting laws of the various communities.

REAL ESTATE THE SUNDAY CONSTITUTION'S SPECIAL PAGE DEVOTED TO REALTY AND BUILDING

Preparation for Construction of Buildings Begins in Walker and Nelson Streets Section

Steam shovel at work grading sites for new wholesale buildings in the Walker and Nelson streets development. In the foreground is a trainload of dirt ready to be hauled out.

Steam shovels and dirt trains started to work last week in the big Walker and Nelson street development, grading sites for four buildings, the first to be constructed in this proposed new wholesale and manufacturing district. One of these buildings, and the first of them to go up, will be the big building of the John Deere show company, from which it will conduct its business over the entire territory of the southern states. The details of this structure have already been announced. The nature and the leases of the other buildings which have been planned are not yet ready for announcement. It is assumed, however, that other buildings will be built. The need of a new centrally located wholesale and manufacturing district for Atlanta has been a long-drawn-out and the Walker and Nelson street development has been designed to meet this necessity. The idea of developing this territory with railroad frontage was originated about two years ago by a group of Atlanta capitalists and business men who formed themselves into a syndicate and bought up the property between Walker and Nelson streets and the railroad parcel by parcel.

At first the project looked to be so big that many were afraid it could not be "put over." The inherent faith of people in Atlanta real estate, however, soon asserted itself and property in this neighborhood has since been the subject of brisk buying and selling and speculation. Several months ago the work of building spur tracks into the tract was completed, and now that actual preparation for substantial improvement of the property has begun, it is anticipated that there will be considerable revival of real estate activity in this section during the course of the coming several months.

PROPERTY OWNERS WILL ASK TO HAVE CAR LINE EXTENDED

W. E. Worley, president of the Woodland Hills company, who has subdivided a tract of 400 acres of land into about 400 lots and who now is having water and sewer mains laid along the streets and laying tile sidewalks, has asked all property owners north of Virginia avenue on Highway 10, to meet with him at the company's office, 410 Candler building, on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock, for the purpose of making a plan for the Georgia Railway and Power company to extend their line from Virginia avenue into and through Woodland Hills. Every property owner on this route is earnestly requested to be present.

ANOTHER REALTY FIRM IN HEALEY BUILDING

The Parantha-Centrell Realty company, successors to Smith, Turner & Parantha, with office at 301 Empire building, have moved to 120 Healey building, facing the main entrance of the postoffice. In addition to change in location they have broadened the scope of their business to include the handling of farms and acreage in all sections of the south, as well as increasing their facilities for the rapid and satisfactory handling of city and suburban property. J. J. Smith, president of the company, will continue to have his office at the corner of Peachtree and St. Clair, of the city sales force, will be associated with this firm at their new quarters, and will welcome to their old and new acquaintances.

Judging from the muteness some of the eyes are developing, it is not long when a fellow will have to wait until his head is turned before he can see the theater with him.

There are a whole lot of men in the world who are blind and who imagine that they are not, who are sympathetic with blind people.

Woodside, Sharp and Boylston Form Mammoth Renting Agency

Name of New Firm Will Be John J. Woodside and Sharp, Boylston & Day, T. J. Day, Well-Known Insurance Man, Will Have Charge of Loan Department.

The largest renting agency in the southern states has just been formed by the consolidation of the Sharp & Boylston agency and the John J. Woodside agency.

This consolidation became effective May 1, and the headquarters of the new firm have been established in the offices of the former John J. Woodside agency, at 12 Auburn avenue. By June 1 the business of the Sharp & Boylston agency will have been completely transferred in all details to the Auburn avenue offices, and the present office of Sharp & Boylston on South Broad street, will be discontinued.

The name of the new agency will be John J. Woodside and Sharp, Boylston & Day.

John J. Woodside has for years enjoyed the reputation of being at the head of the largest renting agency in the city and one of the largest in the south. The Sharp & Boylston agency also has a very substantial rental list. Both enjoy the high esteem of their patrons, both substantial and transient.

ants, and have assurances that their service has been eminently satisfactory.

Well Established Firms. Both firms are old and well established. The Sharp & Boylston firm was established originally by D. M. Matthews, under the style of Green & Matthews, in 1892. After several changes it became Sharp & Boylston five years ago. Since that time the renting business of the firm has increased practically 100 per cent.

The new firm in addition to its real business will conduct a general real estate sales business, dealing in city, suburban and acreage properties. A loan department will also be opened in connection with the other branches of the new agency. This department will be under the supervision of T. J. Day.

Mr. Day has for years been identified with the progress of Atlanta. He is well and favorably known by his fellow business men. He has been a member of city council. Prior to taking the head of the loan department of the new agency, Mr. Day was for six years chairman of the fire insurance business in Atlanta.

The other members of the new firm are equally well known. Colonel John J. Woodside began his business here about thirty years ago. At that time he built up the largest renting business in the state of Georgia. He has been a leader in the civic and business life of the city. He has been a member of the city water board, chairman of the police board, and a captain in the national guard.

BUILDING SPACE BESETS ATLANTA

The Announcements of Last Week Very Encouraging. The 1914 Building Figures Climbing Above 1913.

With building figures in the office of the building inspector steadily increasing over the figures of last year, the outlook for the improvement of Atlanta really is most encouraging. The building news of the last week has been of such a character as to indicate a substantial amount of improvement.

Of particular importance was the announcement of the letting of the contract for the Ford Motor company's new southern assembly plant building, which structure will cost in the neighborhood of $150,000 and the completion of which will bring to Atlanta some 600 new citizens.

It is to be erected at the intersection of Ponce de Leon avenue and the new Ponce de Leon street, and will front 143 feet on Ponce de Leon and will be a two-story building on the tracks of the Southern railway. It will be several stories in height and will be of re-enforced concrete, fire-proof construction.

It is expected that the permit will be applied for within the next several days. The Ford people expect to have the building completed by December.

Fourth Street Building. Announcement was made of a new building on Forsyth street at the street level is now being regraded. This street will be at the street level. It will cost something over $10,000.

The Southern Bell company will occupy it. The building figures of the month were given a considerable boost last week by the granting of a permit for the construction of the Mackie-Bell apartment house at Juniper and Third streets, a structure which will cost $40,000. Work has begun on this building.

The Rabarge apartment, which, incidentally, is of a most attractive design, and not brick veneer, in Ansley Park, is also under construction. It is a three-story building, and will be a most attractive structure.

Steam shovels and dirt trains were at work last week in the big Walker and Nelson street development, grading sites for four buildings, the first to be constructed in this proposed new wholesale and manufacturing district. One of these buildings, and the first of them to go up, will be the big building of the John Deere show company, from which it will conduct its business over the entire territory of the southern states. The details of this structure have already been announced. The nature and the leases of the other buildings which have been planned are not yet ready for an-announcement. It is assumed, however, that other buildings will be built. The need of a new centrally located wholesale and manufacturing district for Atlanta has been a long-drawn-out and the Walker and Nelson street development has been designed to meet this necessity. The idea of developing this territory with railroad frontage was originated about two years ago by a group of Atlanta capitalists and business men who formed themselves into a syndicate and bought up the property between Walker and Nelson streets and the railroad parcel by parcel.

At first the project looked to be so big that many were afraid it could not be "put over." The inherent faith of people in Atlanta real estate, however, soon asserted itself and property in this neighborhood has since been the subject of brisk buying and selling and speculation. Several months ago the work of building spur tracks into the tract was completed, and now that actual preparation for substantial improvement of the property has begun, it is anticipated that there will be considerable revival of real estate activity in this section during the course of the coming several months.

An important phase of building news was the announcement that a new work will actually start on the new Ponce de Leon street, which will be a two-story building on the tracks of the Southern railway. It will be several stories in height and will be of re-enforced concrete, fire-proof construction.

It is expected that the permit will be applied for within the next several days. The Ford people expect to have the building completed by December.

Regraded Whitehall Lined With New Buildings; Work Starts on Last Section of Uniform Grade

Scene looking down the regraded portion of Whitehall street southward from Mitchell street, showing the improved grade and appearance of the street and the manner in which the buildings on either side have been remodeled and had stories added below the old street level.

It is just beginning to be possible for one to gain some idea of the regraded section of Whitehall street, which has been at least one story added to its height, this story being built on the old street level, and below the old street level, in a large number of cases, the old buildings have been away in their entirety and new buildings have been erected on the new level of the course of construction, in their own right.

It is practically a newly built street. This, of course, is not to mention the substantial and imposing five-story store building which Charles M. Black has just completed on the site of old Trinity church, at the southwest corner of Whitehall street and Trinity avenue. No building of its size more serviceable or ornamental to a street exists in the city than this.

More Buildings Coming. This is apparently but the first of several new buildings which will be erected on Whitehall and Forsyth streets when the regrading of these streets, of which the present completed work represents the first section, is done. Plans for a substantial building at the corner of Forsyth and Brotherton streets have already been announced.

The fact that several other buildings will be built on Whitehall street is vouched for by the property owners and real men who supported the movement which was effective in bringing about the regrading of the street.

The work of regrading the second and last section contemplated in the Whitehall-Forsyth regrading plan has begun. Retaining walls are now being built at Forsyth and Brotherton streets and will soon be done. A big fill will be made at this point. A similar fill will be made at Whitehall and Brotherton streets.

When it is done a uniform grade will have been established on both Whitehall and Forsyth streets from the center of the city outward.

Improvements than any street improvement that Atlanta has seen in years. Practically every building in the entire regraded section has been remodeled and has had at least one story added to its height, this story being built on the old street level, and below the old street level, in a large number of cases, the old buildings have been away in their entirety and new buildings have been erected on the new level of the course of construction, in their own right.

Hedgerose Heights---a Dream of Beauty and an Ideal Residence Place

VIEWS OF TWO OF THE BEAUTIFUL DRIVES OF HEDGEROSE HEIGHTS SUBDIVISION.

Hedgerose Heights is one of the most beautiful north side country residence subdivisions for which there is an enormous demand. This subdivision is handled by the Holmes & Luckie Realty company.

Hedgerose Heights is located just east of Buckhead and south of the intersection of Peachtree road with Plaster's Bridge road. All of the lots are within from five to ten minutes' walk from the Buckhead car line. The lot front on East Pace's Ferry road, Peachtree road and Plaster's Bridge road, which last named road is an extension of Piedmont avenue.

The subdivision consists of a tract of about fifty acres of beautifully wooded rolling land. It is divided into forty-five large lots.

47th Anniversary Greetings from the Royal Society Co. They Let Us Have Their Discontinued Patterns, Hence

2,200 Pieces 50c to $1 Art Linens are at

OUR relations with the Royal Society Co. have always been most friendly.

They make good merchandise; the kind we like to sell. As an expression of their gratitude for business done with them in the past, they favor us with their discontinued patterns in Art Linens. "Discontinued" patterns, solely because the demand for novelty forces the Royal Society Co. to bring out new designs every season. These "discontinued patterns" are as pretty and attractive as any of the new designs. There are

50c to $1 white art linens and white linens in 27 and 36-inch centerpieces; and 18x45, 18x54, 22x45 and 24x54-inch scarfs.

75c all-white linen towels in large sizes.

75c & $1 tinted and stamped natural brown linen scarfs and centers.

The biggest and best linen event that happens hereabouts begins tomorrow as it has every summer for the past sixteen years. It is wherein we offer practically all of our fine table linens and cloths, together with decorative linens, towels, sheets, spreads and bedding

At prices that occur only once in a six-month.

ONE of the two great linen sales of the year. You have come to know it, to understand it, to profit by it. You know how we do it—how we go to the makers months in advance to get ready for this event; how we get price concessions and take advantage of special opportunities. You know, moreover, that we clip prices on practically all our own good stock—all for the purpose of making the

SEED AND PET STOCK
H. G. HASTINGS & COMPANY
SEEDS, PLANTS AND POULTRY SUPPLIES.
BELL PHONES, MAIN 2568, MAIN 3962; ATLANTA, 2568.
16 WEST MITCHELL STREET.

WE CAN SUPPLY you daily with fresh vegetables and flowering plants. If not convenient for you to call at our store, just phone us your orders and they will receive our same prompt attention.

BULBS THAT SHOULD BE STARTED NOW—Sago palms, cannas, gladioli, dahlias and tuberoses.

FOR A BEAUTIFUL LAWN try Hastings' Evergreen Lawn Mixture. This mixture is mixed so as to stay green summer and winter, and when sown in well prepared soil will afford a beautiful velvet lawn. 1 pound, 20 cents; 7 pounds, $1.25; 14 pounds, $2.50.

FLOWER POTS, fern plants, pot saucers, and plant tubs.

STERLINGWORTH PLANT TABLETS are fine for ferns, palms and all other pot plants that are turning yellow and are not growing off fast. No trouble to use, just mix in water and pour on the soil. 10 cents and 25 cents a box.

WIZARD BRAND SHEEP MANURE is what you need for your lawn and garden; also fine for flowers. Put up in 100-pound bags only. Price $1.50 per bag.

IF YOU HAVE CHICKENS that are troubled with white diarrhea, it will pay you to try Pratt's White Diarrhea Remedy. It is a preventative as well as a cure. 25 and 50 cents a package.

DON'T FORGET that the "Red Comb" Feeds are the feeds to feed your fowls. Once tried they are always used. A trial order will convince you that this is true.

DON'T WORRY about fowls that are affected with roup or cholera. We can supply you with both Pratt's and Conkey's Remedies. They are both good and either will give satisfaction. 25 and 50 cent sizes of both.

AT THIS SEASON OF THE YEAR we are making two deliveries daily to all parts of the city. The wagons leave the store at 9 a. m. and at 2 p. m.

WE HAVE ON HAND a beautiful lot of ferns. Price 60c and up.

PRATT'S POULTRY REGULATOR is a fine egg producer and conditioner. 25, 50 cent and $1.00 packages.

GALVANIZED IRON drinking fountains, feed hoppers and feed pans. Leg bands and egg boxes.

WE WILL LIKE to have your orders for all kinds of vegetables and flower seeds. We are sure that they will give you satisfactory results.

A SNOW BALL HAS AS MUCH SHOW—

IN A FIRE FURNACE as a poor man has who tries to buy a home on the north side. I mean every word I say. A man who hasn't over $200 or $300 in CASH, whose salary is less than $100 a month, who is trying to buy a home, is using BAD JUDGMENT, to say the least of it. If he is trying to buy a home, he should be looking for a home on the north side. If you want to; it makes no difference with me. Out of 100 homes I have sold at Lakewood Heights for the last few years there were only TWO who sold down with their payments. Sold one this week. I have two more bungalows under way on large lots, just off the car line, and they are not BARE, but BUNGALOWS; go out and take a look at them; get off car at Adair avenue; will cost you nothing. It might be just what you have been looking for. I don't have to buy anybody to buy my bungalows; there is no use, they sell too fast for that. If you are in earnest and are determined to buy a home that you CAN PAY FOR, I will be glad to hear from you. Prices $2,500 and $2,800 (the same kind you pay $4,000 for on the north side). Sixteen dollars per month up. Enough said! P. B. Hopkins, 216 Empire Bldg. Ivy 3111.

IN SPOTLESS COLLEGE PARK

I CAN SELL YOU a home that is a home. Seven rooms, lot 200x200. Corner. Green grass lawn, with shade trees. Flowering fruit trees and singing birds. Big garden. Chicken yards. Plenty of room. Choicest neighbors. On car line. All conveniences. $5,000. Part cash.

Eight More Boys Win Constitution's Badges

Great interest is being manifested by the high schools of the state in the Constitution badge contest, and communications are being received daily, containing the names of the boys that have qualified for the badges.

To win one of these badges the boys have to run 100 yards in 12 seconds, do a 4-foot, 4-inch running high jump, and chin the bar nine times.

Two contests were held last week, one at Decatur, and the other at Covington, Ga.

Decatur Winners.—(Special).—The boys who have qualified for badges in the Constitution's contest at the contest held here are as follows: Murphy Chandler, Jr., David Green, William Gentry, David Chambers and William Christie.

The judges of this contest were E. E. Treadwell, E. W. Kennedy and George M. Parrish.

Covington Winners.—(Special).—The winners in the most held last week here are as follows: James Lester, Lamar Smith and Kiser Lunsford.

G. M. C. WON SPARTA ATHLETIC CONTESTS.—(Special).—The seventh annual meeting of the Tenth District High School association, was in session here May 1 and 2. Those who are responsible for this occasion report the largest attendance and the greatest interest and enthusiasm ever manifested upon a similar occasion.

Large delegations came from every high school in the district, supported them in victory and console them in defeat. Sports entertained the association in a fitting and hospitable way. Five hundred people were served with a barbecue dinner on Friday.

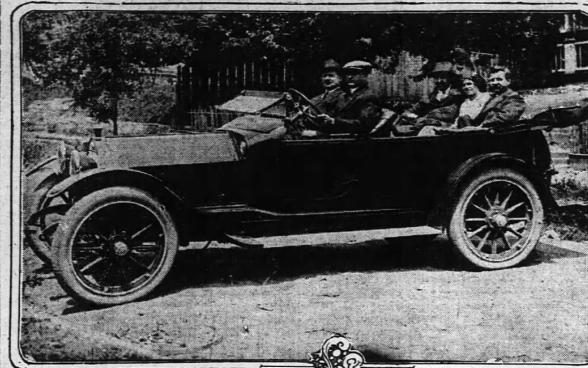

The next convention of the association will meet with Tenuille, Ga.

Officers.—The officers chosen for 1915 are: W. S. Sewell, Tenuille, president; W. T. Garrett, Sandersville, vice president; H. B. Carrocker, Warrenton, secretary and treasurer; T. E. Douke, Sparta, and O. R. Horton, Georgia Military college, members of the executive committee.

John D. Walker has presented to the high school association for 1915 a handsome loving cup to be used by the association as its officers direct. This new cup will add increased interest to the schools in their contests, locally and in the district meet.

Badges were raised to have the tenth district full represented at the state meeting at Athens in July. The following are the names of the boys who have qualified for the badges: Louisville, Ga.: third, Miss Lucy Har-

FIFTH DISTRICT MEET

IS ENJOYABLE AFFAIR.

Decatur, Ga., May 2.—(Special).—The

Fifth District High school meet closed its exercises here today, after a most enjoyable two days.

Professor C. O. Stubbs, of Fairburn, president of the association, and a number of other well-known teachers were present. There were 25 schools and two hundred visitors, including the delegates from the various schools.

Professor E. E. Treadwell, superintendent of the Decatur public schools, was in charge of the exercises.

The athletic championship was won by David Green, of Decatur—41.3

points. The second place went to Paul

Green, another Decatur boy, who is attending the A. & M. college at Monroe—40 points.

The winner in expression was Miss

Lillian Harden, of Decatur; music, Miss

Torrence, of Palmetto. Weyman Val-born, of Lithonia, was the winner in declamation, and Miss Hattie Alexander, of Decatur, in reading.

The winners in these contests will go to the state meet in Athens in July and take part in the contests with the champions from the other districts of the state.

ALL-WEATHER TREAD

This is the Goodyear All-Weather Tread

"All-Weather" because it runs like a smooth tread. The projections are flat and regular. Yet on wet roads the countless sharp edges afford a resistless grip. This tread is double-thick. It is made of very tough rubber. The sharp edges last for thousands of miles.

Instead of rounded grips, here are grips with sharp edges. Instead of a rugged, irregular tread, here is one smooth and regular.

Instead of separate projections—centering all strains at small points in the fabric—here are projections which meet at the base, and spread the strains just like a plain tread.

Not a tire user can know this tread without wanting these tires on his car.

No Other Tire

No other tire has this All-Weather tread. No other tire has our No-Rim-Cut feature—the only feasible way to make rim-cutting impossible. No other tire is final-cured on air bags, to save the countless blow-outs due to wrinkled fabric. This extra process costs us $1,500 daily.

No other tire combats tread separation by creating at the danger point hundreds of large rubber rivets.

Much Lower Prices

In 1913 No-Rim-Cut tire prices dropped 28 per cent. Now there are 16 makes which sell at higher prices—some higher by almost 50 per cent.

Yet No-Rim-Cut tires have four costly features found in no other tires.

And no man knows of any way to give you greater mileage.

Bear this in mind. No-Rim-Cut tires have won top place in Tire-dom. And they cost you only what the best should cost.

Our dealers are everywhere.

HARLEY-DAVIDSONS Win Endurance Contests

Fifty contestants representing all makes of motorcycles rode in these three endurance contests. The route selected was the roughest that could be found in Georgia, over Kennesaw, Altona and York Mountains, through creeks, sand and mud. The last run finished in heavy rainstorm. The only perfect score won was by R. B. Parrish on his Harley-Davidson, who also won the Gold Medal for best total score in the three runs of dates February 15, March 15 and April 19. Three out of the four best total scores made in these three endurance contests were made on

CLOSING PRICES IN COTTON STEADY

Market Easier Owing to
More Favorable Weather
Advices and Liquidation of Old and New Months.

New York, May 2.—The cotton market was easier again today, owing to more favorable weather advices and further liquidation of both old and new crop months. Closing prices of old and new months declined from 2 to 4 points. There were some buyers of old months and some of new months, but the market was not active. The weather was more favorable than yesterday, and this was the main reason for the decline. There was enough May for sale, but not enough to make a difference. Dorsey Calls C. W. Burke And Other Investigators For Leo Frank to Court

W. J. Burns, on Stand, Says
"Conley Confession" Letters Were Obtained by Burke, Not by Himself.

SAYS HE HAD NOTHING TO DO WITH RAGSDALE

Declares He Advised Taking Witness Away for Fear of "Frame-up"—Many Obstacles in Path, He Asserts.

Another sensational move was made by Solicitor Dorsey yesterday, when he issued subpoenas for Leo Frank, the private detective for Leo Frank's counsel, and a number of other investigators who have been active in gaining new evidence.

Dorsey will be forced to face a volley of questions from the jury general in explanation of the charges of criminal operations, forgery and conspiracy that have been made against him by numerous witnesses in Atlanta made public Friday at the retrial hearing.

Process servers went out from Dorsey's office Saturday morning armed with papers to find out just what modes were used in securing certain affidavits submitted by the defense, which have since been repudiated by a number of witnesses, some of whom even swear they never made affidavits accredited them.

Dan S. Lebon, Detective Bureau lieutenant, who has been an active figure in the Burns investigation of the Frank case, will also be put on the stand Monday morning to be examined to explain the affidavit of C. W. Ragdale, the preacher, who made and repudiated a sworn statement to the effect that Jim Conley had confessed, and now declares he was given a bribe of $200 by Burns' agents.

Another man to be examined by Dorsey, and for whom a subpoena has been issued and served, is Charles W. Tedder, said to be a Burns detective, who was associated with Attorney William M. Smith, Jim Conley's lawyer, and who, it is said, kept his connections with the Burns Agency a secret. Tedder will be asked to explain whether or not he aided Smith, and whether or not Smith's movements with Conley and in behalf of the negro were reported to the Burns agency.

Speculation Is Rife.
Coming after Mr. Dorsey's merciless grilling of Detective Burns Saturday morning before Judge Ben Hill, the prospects of Dorsey's examinations of Burke, Lebon and the others have created sensational speculation.
Mr. Dorsey, it is stated, is anxious to quiz Detective Burke regarding the affidavit of Marie Karst, the girl business college student and character witness, who swears that she was brought into Burke's operations by a threat to expose publicly a girlhood indiscretion which she committed when she was 15 years old. Her affidavit is a direct accusation of the methods employed by Burke.
He will also be asked to explain other charges that have been made against him, including those of bribery, charges at bribery and coercion. Similar charges will have to be answered by Jimmie Wrenn, who is said to have been associated with Burke, and by Wrenn's brother, George Wrenn, who recently served a twelve months' sentence for complicity in the noted Gilley diamond robbery.

Joe Jacobs, a Decatur street pawnbroker, who is said to have been connected with the Chicago angle of the woman, he would not stand Saturday afternoon.

Burns underwent a severe grilling before Dorsey. He was on the rack for more than an hour in the courtroom, on the fourth floor of the Thawer building, at which Judge Ben Hill presided. Burns was represented by Attorney Eugene R. Arnold, counsel for Frank's defense, who injected a brief cross-examination.

Burns stated in answer to the solicitor's questions that, in his opinion, Frank's defense did not require any further evidence to acquit Frank than the evidence which is contained in the records of the trial at which the man was convicted.

He said that he had made a report on the progress at the end of each day to Frank's attorneys, and that he had already submitted to them his final report of the investigation. He declared that he will at once go to Chicago to testify in a government land case, but that he will return within ten days.

Says Witnesses Are "Hamboned."
In explanation of his attitude toward the Carter woman, whose removal to New Orleans he had advised, he said that it seemed that every witness for the defense had been "hamboned" by the operatives for the prosecution, and that he would rather all witnesses for the defense be removed out of this line of danger.

He said that C. W. Burke, the private detective in the employ of Lecher Z. Rosner, had unearthed the evidence produced by Anna Maud Carter, and had obtained the letters which are said to have been written by Conley.

Burns said that the first he knew of the letters or of the woman's connection of the case was when he was apprised of them in the office of Herbert Hays.

He says that George Wrenn, who recently served a twelve months' sentence in the county jail for complicity in the sensational May 19, 1913, diamond robbery, had a hand in the letter.

Both C. W. Burke and Jimmie Wrenn, Wrenn's brother, Jimmie Wrenn, was said to have been connected with the investigation of newly-discovered evidence for the defense.

Both C. W. Burke and Jimmie Wrenn were the objects of withering attacks by the investigation of newly-discovered evidence. Both C. W. Burke and Jimmie Wrenn submitted a large number of affidavits from girls and women and men who accused both Burke and Wrenn of criminal operations in procuring newly-discovered evidence.

Previously it has been the general impression that Burns himself had procured the evidence of Anna Maud Carter, and had got the letters from her. Burns' examination was set for Monday morning, when the retrial hearing is resumed before Judge Hill, in the capital. His desire to go to Oklahoma, however, induced court authorities to hold it yesterday morning. Dan Lebon, Burns' lieutenant, was at court, but he will not be examined until Monday morning.

Burns Springs Vengeance.

A surprise was sprung when Dorsey piled the detective with a number of questions regarding Carlton C. Tedder, the private investigator who had been associated with Bill Smith, Jim Conley's counsel for several months, and who has been intimately acquainted with the movements of Conley's attorney.

Burns admitted that Tedder was employed as an operative by the Burns Agency, and that he had kept this connection secret from Attorney Smith. Burns, in answer to a question, explained why, in his recent interview with Attorney Smith, he had asked the question merely to ascertain whether Tedder was fulfilling his duty to the Burns office.

In connection with the evidence which Burns has had to do, the detective declared that he had not found a pocketbook purported to have been taken by Phagans in the trial. He said that at every turn of his investigation he was being thrown into the path of a man who was quoted as having said that he had cleared up the mystery of the pocketbook.

Obstacles Thrown in His Way.
During the cross-examination by Attorney Arnold, Burns stated that he had never worked on a case in which he had been confronted by so many obstacles that had been put in his way. He said that he had been thrown into the path of a man who was quoted as having said that he had cleared up the mystery of the pocketbook.

He was in the act of stating his reasons for believing Conley guilty of the Phagans robbery, when Judge Hill interrupted Mr. Arnold's questions, saying that Burns was making a statement of his own opinion, and that the facts of the case had already been laid before a court of justice. A sharp clash ensued.

Both C. W. Burke and Jimmie Wrenn were the objects of withering attacks by the investigation of newly-discovered evidence. Both C. W. Burke and Jimmie Wrenn submitted a large number of affidavits from girls and women and men who accused both Burke and Wrenn of criminal operations in procuring newly-discovered evidence.

Previously it has been the general impression that Burns himself had procured the evidence of Anna Maud Carter, and had got the letters from her. Burns' examination was set for Monday morning, when the retrial hearing is resumed before Judge Hill, in the capital. His desire to go to Oklahoma, however, induced court authorities to hold it yesterday morning. Dan Lebon, Burns' lieutenant, was at court, but he will not be examined until Monday morning.

Burns Springs Vengeance.
A surprise was sprung when Dorsey piled the detective with a number of questions regarding Carlton C. Tedder, the private investigator who had been associated with Bill Smith, Jim Conley's counsel for several months, and who has been intimately acquainted with the movements of Conley's attorney.

Burns admitted that Tedder was employed as an operative by the Burns Agency, and that he had kept this connection secret from Attorney Smith. Burns, in answer to a question, explained why, in his recent interview with Attorney Smith, he had asked the question merely to ascertain whether Tedder was fulfilling his duty to the Burns office.

The Profits in Apple Growing.

In the current issue of Farm and Fireside T. Dreiner, the well-known horticultural expert, says:
"Professor Hedges of the Geneva, New York, station has kept careful account of the cost of growing apples, and of the profits, under intelligent management. The net income from the orchard averaged during the ten-year test period $2.4 per acre, equal to 11.5 cents per bushel. The cost of growing apples is just as in most other enterprises."

Eighty-five per cent of the people voted for the salary once; there are more than that in favor of it now. I was one of the eighty-five.

Unimpressive Army of Mexico.

The least impressive army I have seen anywhere, writes Fritz Arno von der Goltz, in Harper's Weekly, is that of the troops in Mexico City. Officers with slight knowledge of even the most elementary tactics of modern warfare in command of green men who scarcely know how to handle the modern equipment with which they are supplied. The troops in Mexico City are drilled before the motion picture camera, the idea being to impress the outside world with the power behind the federal cause.

Does the Spital Artist Last?
Several years ago there was considerable agitation for the abolition of the spital artist. Many critics insisted that the spital would abolish itself if given enough time. Pictures were taken of the artist at work, and the artist was accused of being a fraud.

In the last six years, writes Emily S. Davis, in Harper's Weekly, the spital artist has been a major, because of the spital artist's influence on the spital. The artist has been a major, because of the spital artist's influence on the spital. The artist has been a major, because of the spital artist's influence on the spital.

There was a time when a woman had to put on a trunk full of clothes in order to be well dressed. Nowadays the more she takes off the better dressed she is.

Cured His RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. I have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation. I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. I have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter.

Write to Mr. Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 241 Marquette Avenue, St. Paul, Minn. N. J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any doctor who is ruptured—you may save a life, or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

BIRD CHAIN GETS CHEAPER GAS RATE

"Atlanta's Rate Must Be Reduced If City Is to Keep Pace," Declares Electrician Turner.

The rates for gas in Atlanta must be reduced if this city is to keep pace with the other enterprising cities which have already won their fight for cheaper gas.

This is the opinion of City Electrician R. C. Turner, who on Saturday issued a statement regarding the campaign for a reduction in the price of gas in Atlanta, in which he pointed out that Birmingham is now about to get a reduction in the price of gas which will give her a rate 40 cents cheaper than Atlanta. Furthermore, he states that the president of the Birmingham Railway and Light company takes the unusual role of voluntarily offering a reduction in rates.

"With our neighboring city selling gas for 40 cents less than Atlanta," says Mr. Turner, "the attracting of additional manufacturers and people to this city will become very difficult."

Mr. Turner's statement follows: "The Birmingham Railway and Light company is certainly endeavoring to put one over on us as an all city authority and the city of Atlanta is certainly endeavoring to put one over on the Birmingham Railway and Light company. It is a race to the bottom."

Galsworthy on the Plain Man.

The amuse complicity of the stolid British conservative has seldom been so clearly hit off as by John Galsworthy in the current number of Harper's Weekly. Galsworthy, the English writer, who is known for his realistic and satirical descriptions of English society, has written a story in which he describes the life of a plain man in England. The story is a realistic and satirical description of English society.

B RILLIANT is the white satin gown at the left resplendant with a draped pannier effect which forms a pointed panel. This is of blue green chiffon embroidered in gold beads. A large crushed bow of gold cloth is placed at the back. The waist is of shadow lace.

Pale yellow mousseline and tulle form the bodice of the gown on the right, while the skirt is of yellow mousseline with a bouffant drapery of a deep yellow taffeta over a plaited tunic of white chiffon, which also forms a girdle. Vermilion, blue and violet tones appear in the corsage bouquet. The slippers are of yellow satin. A Roman scarf adds a new touch of color.

The gown in the background is of blue charmeuse and lace. Strings of rhinestones over the shoulders support the bodice drapery.
